On Farm In Ohioville

'Moonshine' Still Raided

MOONSHINE OPERATION. This makeshift still, capable of producing 40 gallons of illegal whisky a week, was found by Ohioville police in a raid on a district farm Monday night. Shown inspecting the equipment, left to right, are Sgt. Leo LeFebvre, kneeling; Ron Anusich, special officer; Joseph Machupa, special officer, and Chief Bernard Zlatovich. The large drum was used to cook the mash and the cooling system was inside the galvanized garbage can. The moonshine was bottled in gallon jugs.

A moonshine operation capable of producing up to 40 gallons of illegal whisky a week was closed in a raid on an Ohioville farm Monday night and a man and woman identified as the operators are in Beaver County Jail awaiting arraignment.

The raid was conducted at 7:30 by Ohioville police, led by Chief Bernard Zlatovich, armed with a search and seizure warrant. Arrested were William Uhlworm, 62, and his step - daughter, Delores Drumm, 44, both formerly of Youngstown.

They will be arraigned today before Squire Leroy Gibbs of Brighton Township on charges of manufacturing and possession of untaxed liquor.

THE RAID on the home located west of the Cow Hollow area, east of Route 168 and on the road to the Midland Sportsmen's Club farm, came after three months surveillance.

Zlatovich, accompanied by Sgt. Leo LeFebvre and Special Officers Joseph Machupa and Ron Anusich, closed in at a time they believed the still would be in actual operation.

The still was set up approximately 100 yards from the Uhlworm residence. Zlatovich said the whisky was being "run off" under extremely unsanitary conditions.

The mash was being allowed to ferment in a 40-gallon drum which was buried in the ground. It was covered by a loosely-fitting lid and the hood from a car. This allowed leaves and insects to get into the solution. The drum also was rusty, Zlatovich said.

A lightbulb was sealed inside a jar and dropped into the mash to keep the fermentation process going. If mash

Zoning Changes Eyed In East End

Climax of a stormy 90-minute confrontation with at least 50 irate East End residents, Council agreed Monday night to order committee study of a proposal to change the zoning classification of most of Pennsylvania Ave. and designate it as a business area instead of a "medium high density residential district."

Property owners and business operators complained to Council that many buildings are standing idle because they cannot be put to the uses allowed in the present zoning classification. The same law makes it impossible for a new business venture to begin, they charged.

IT WAS one of the stormiest meetings since the days in the early 1960's when the city income tax question was debated pro and con. President Norman Bucher was forced to bang his gavel frequently to maintain order, particularly when two speakers sought the floor at once.

Although there are many business places along the long stretch from Virginia Ave. to Elizabeth St. and they are allowed to continue because a zoning law cannot be made retroactive, vacant commercial structures in the area cannot be rented because their use would not conform to the ordinance, the property owners complained.

The attack on the zoning regulations was led by Bert Willison of Harvey Ave., who is charged in Municipal Court with changing the use of a business property at 1646 Pennsylvania Ave. without first obtaining a zoning certificate. The charge was filed by Marvin

3 Dead And Damages High

Britons Hit Weathermen For No Warning On Rains

LONDON (AP) — Britons denounced their weathermen today for failing to warn them of the three-day downpour that flooded huge areas of southeast England, caused three deaths and did millions of pounds worth of damage.

The floods covered hundreds of square miles, marooning families, isolating towns and villages and disrupting road and rail services.

Members of the House of Commons said that the meteorologists on Saturday gave no indication of the dangers ahead and said they would raise the matter in Commons.

The weather office chief, Dr. Brian Mason, protested: "We haven't got a computer sufficiently powerful to make an accurate forecast of the rainfall on a day-to-day basis."

Rain Monday night added a fresh threat to areas not already under water and hampered rescue operations by police and troops.

Thousands of people were evacuated from inundated homes and housed in temporary quarters.

The British Automobile Association said that almost every stream and river in southeast England was at danger level.

Army amphibious vehicles were sent to Dalham, near Newmarket race course, where some places were under 11 feet of water. In Norfolk, the coastal resorts of Great Yarmouth and Lowestoft were cut off by flooded roads.

The weathermen forecast more rain today but added that drier weather was on the way.

Senate Bans Mail Sales Of Ammunition

Amendment Eyed On Registration Of Guns, Licensing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate backers of stronger gun control laws have scored an important point by winning approval of a ban against the mail order sale of ammunition for rifles, shotguns and 22-caliber weapons.

The Senate voted Monday 41 to 36 to rebuff the Senate Judiciary Committee's proposed amendment to exclude the ammunition from the controls set out in the main control bill.

The vote came as the Senate started work on scores of amendments to the bill which, like one passed earlier by the House, bars the mail order sale of guns and ammunition to private persons.

Still to be acted on is an amendment, turned down by the Judiciary Committee and the House, to require the registration of all guns and the licensing of their owners.

2 Local Men Seized After Fleeing Jail

Two East Liverpool residents are being held today at Crown City, Ohio, 25 miles upstream from Huntington, W. Va., after fleeing the Huntington jail Monday night.

They are Charles T. (Bill) Landy, whose address was listed as Valley Ave., and Kenneth Adkins, who has two addresses at the local police department — Pennsylvania Ave. Ext. and Crawford Ave.

Ohio highway patrolmen arrested the two escapees today and took them to the Crown City jail preparatory to their return to Huntington.

Adkins was being held at Huntington on a charge of burglary and Landy with being an accessory. Each is 25 years old.

Senate Judiciary Group Approves Fortas, 10-6

Nomination Still Faces Floor Fight

Outcome In Doubt With Filibuster Now As New Threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Abe Fortas' nomination to be chief justice won the approval of the Senate Judiciary Committee today, but still faced serious trouble in the Senate itself.

The committee vote was 10 to 6.

The battleground now shifts to the Senate, where a filibuster is threatened against confirming the nomination.

The outcome is in doubt. It takes a two-thirds majority of senators voting to choke off a filibuster by putting a debate-limiting cloture rule into effect.

Opponents, who include Republicans and Southern Democrats, claim they have the votes to keep the debate going and perhaps enough to defeat the nomination outright, which would require only a simple majority.

Fortas, an associate justice on the Supreme Court, was nominated by President Johnson June 26 to succeed Earl Warren as chief justice. Johnson accepted Warren's retirement effective on the confirmation of a successor.

Majority Lead Mike Mansfield told the Senate Monday that if Fortas is not confirmed, Warren probably will stay on as chief justice "for a long time to come."

Opponents have based their attack on claims that President Johnson has no right in the waning days of his administration to make such an important nomination; that the President was guilty of "cronyism" in nominating an old friend; that Fortas violated the concept of separation of powers by advising Johnson while sitting on the high court, and that his decisions have helped the growth of pornography.

The controversy over Fortas' rulings on pornography cases prompted the introduction of legislation Monday to bar the Supreme Court from overturning jury findings of obscenity.

27 True Bills Returned By Grand Jurors

LISBON — The Columbiana County grand jury returned 27 true bills when it reported late this morning to Judge Raymond S. Buzzard in Common Pleas Court. Thirteen of the indictments are secret.

In session since last Tuesday, the panel of 15 men and women examined 126 witnesses. The jurors dropped four cases after consideration, transferred one to Juvenile Court and continued one.

The jury inspected the County Jail this morning as required by law and talked to the prisoners.

Judge Buzzard will preside for criminal trials this term of court. He has scheduled arraignments for 9 a.m. Sept. 30. A pre-arraignment session to make certain all defendants have counsel will be held at 1 p.m. Sept. 26.

Enemy Kills 25 Marines, Wounds 126

Reds Catch U.S. Column Digging In For Night In DMZ

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops caught a column of U.S. Marines as the Leathernecks were digging in for the night Monday, killed 25 and wounded 126 with more than 200 mortar rounds and a hail of small arms fire.

The Americans struck back with mortars, artillery and helicopter gunships. The Marines reported 27 of the enemy killed in the 10-hour fight four miles south of the central part of the demilitarized zone.

The Marines were from the 26th Regiment, the defenders of Khe Sanh who held out against a 77-day Communist siege last winter, and then abandoned that outpost. The casualties Monday were comparable to those on the worst days at Khe Sanh.

The first North Vietnamese barrage pounded in at 3:30 p.m. just as the Marines were moving into defensive positions for the night, one of the most vulnerable spots troops can be in. The Marines apparently were caught before they could get their foxholes dug.

U.S. helicopters and artillery and mortars pounded the North Vietnamese positions, but the Communists kept up the attack until 6:30 p.m. More than 150 rounds were fired into the Marine positions before the barrage subsided.

Two hours later, the North Vietnamese renewed their mortaring, and an hour later small arms fire crackled around the Marine perimeter.

7 More Days To Register

To be eligible to vote in East Liverpool at the Nov. 5 general election, you must register with the County Election Board at 129 W. 6th St. if:

You haven't voted at a primary, general or special election in the last two years; you've changed your name by marriage or court action; you've changed your residence since the last election; you've become 21 since the last election or will be 21 on or before Nov. 5, the general election date.

A new resident is qualified to vote after he has resided in Ohio for a year and in Columbiana County and his precinct 40 days prior to election day. East Liverpool is the only community in Columbiana County where voter registration is required.

Registration Ends Sept. 25

Estimates Asked

Surfacing Eyed For Maine Blvd.

Council authorized Engineer George S. Bloomgren Monday night to prepare alternate estimates on surfacing of Maine Blvd., intending to set up a project next year to improve the street which gives access to the new school complex opened Sept. 9.

Bloomgren said he will prepare cost figures on surfacing of the stretch from McKinnon Ave. on the North Side to Ambrose Ave. on Thompson Hill. He said the preliminary work should get under way soon if Council intends to undertake an improvement in 1969.

BLOOMGREN told Council the city might apply to have the street made part of the so-called federal aid secondary system, under which it would be eligible for a 50 per cent grant in U.S. funds. The same system was used in installing the three-lane concrete pavement on outer St. Clair Ave. a few years ago.

If there is federal participation, the government probably would require higher standards than would be the case in a local project, the engineer said. He indicated he will prepare one estimate looking toward federal participation and another visualizing the work as a local project.

The winding street now is unsurfaced and filled with chuckholes. The city has undertaken a widening project because of the heavy traffic since the schools opened.

Several other questions were settled related to the new schools and the adjacent area.

Council authorized Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey to install a red traffic signal at McKinnon Ave. and Anderson Blvd. to halt cars while

1-Mile Limit Draws Fire

Parents Air Complaints On School Bus Problems

Citizens complaining about various East Liverpool School District bus transportation problems took up almost two hours of the board's meeting time Monday night.

At one time, four conversations were taking place in the board's room.

L. M. Creel of Shadyside Ave., the first to speak, asked about buses on Shadyside. He said, "We were led to believe that our buses would not carry any children up Shadyside. Two buses are using Shadyside. Will this continue?"

Assistant Supt. Carl Pelini replied that both the Junior High and Elementary buses at Westgate use Shadyside, and that this is part of the bus route.

Mrs. Doris Puckett of 923 Kent St. said, "School buses should be provided for all children in the East End for the kids' safety. I wonder just where the mile limit really is? Some say Kent St. is within a mile, others say it is not."

"Pelini says the distance has been measured, but is the mile at Mulberry or at another street?"

Housing Inspections To Begin Wednesday

Housing inspections required under the city's building and zoning regulations will begin again Wednesday afternoon in the Pleasant Heights area.

Marvin Wooley, zoning and building inspector, announced plans today for the resumption. He will be accompanied on the inspections by Fire Chief Alfred VanDyne and Health Commissioner Jack Bonner.

The inspections have been suspended for about six weeks. Wooley said they will be made regularly in the future, each Wednesday afternoon. The area to be inspected will be announced publicly the previous day, he said.

Chrysler Hike On 1969 Cars Draws Attack

LBJ Aides Say It's Setback To Cause Of Price Stability

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. announced a price increase on its 1969 models which was promptly criticized by White House economists as "a severe setback to the cause of price stability."

"If it becomes the pattern for the industry," President Johnson's Council of Economic Advisers said in a statement Monday, "it would cost the American consumer $750 million."

Chrysler said the increase averaged $84 or 2.9 per cent above the current manufacturers suggested retail price.

An Associated Press computation put the average price of Chrysler's 172 different 1969 models at $2,917.4, an increase of $128.11, or 4.4 per cent over the average price of 160 1968 models which could be compared to the 1969s.

In an apparent attempt to meet government criticism ahead of time, John J. Riccardo, Chrysler's group vice president for U.S. and Canadian automotive, included the following statement in his price increase announcement Monday:

"The government's own figures from the Bureau of Labor statistics for July 1968, show that new car prices have declined by 17.9 per cent in relation to all items included in the consumer price index, since the 1957-59 base period."

Alternate Route Asked During St. Clair Work

Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey asked motorists again today to use alternate routes, wherever possible, while a contractor is applying a new blacktop surface on St. Clair Ave. between Princeton Ave. and 6th St.

The actual blacktopping began this morning about 7:30. The first course was applied on the east side of the thoroughfare. The work is expected to take about four days.

Although one-way traffic is being maintained, there will be delays during the work, the director said. Whenever possible, motorists should use alternate routes between downtown and North Side, such as Bradshaw Ave. and Maine Blvd., the director suggested.

Cite Recent Gains In Polls

Strategists Of Wallace Seen Chance For Victory

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Campaign strategists for George C. Wallace, encouraged by his gains in recent nationwide polls and a gathering momentum in his third-party race, have come to believe he has a reasonable chance to win the presidency.

In the manner of political hopefuls everywhere, they have always put on the public face of a winner, not that of a spoiler; now they seem actually to believe it.

"He's moving up, and moving up fast," said one strategist. "He could win this thing in a walk." Wallace also believes he can win, and while he admits that being president "is an awesome thing to contemplate," the possibility does not dismay him.

"When I was governor of Alabama I met Nelson Rockefeller and George Romney and some of those others who wanted to be president," he said in an interview, "and they didn't impress me as being better qualified than I."

His strategists said they intend to concentrate on 25 states with 357 electoral votes, 87 more than the 270 needed to win.

In a speech here Monday night he told 7,000 cheering Texans—who hope to deliver their state's 25 electoral votes to Wallace—that his "base" was the Southern Governor's Conference, an association of 17 states with 177 electoral votes.

In addition to Texas these include Alabama, Arkansas, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia.

The other eight states, where rousing crowds or relative ease in getting the required signatures to place his name on the ballot have given Wallace workers hope, are Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Connecticut, New Jersey and California.

These are the states Wallace will concentrate on, but, as Bill Jones, one of his top aides, said, "We're not going to slight any state—we could carry some others that might surprise you, too."

Wallace continually points out that, with three candidates in the presidential race, he only needs 34 per cent of the popular vote in any state, a plurality, to win all its electoral votes.

Jones said Wallace's mail has doubled from its 5,000 letters-a-day average of a few weeks ago to a 10,000-a-day average, with many of the letters containing campaign contributions. Cash from all over the country is flowing into the Montgomery, Ala., headquarters at a greater rate than ever.

The entire Wallace campaign has taken on a gayer, more optimistic tone in the past two weeks than it had before the Democratic and Republican conventions. His staff seems to sense that he is not on a quixotic crusade but a legitimate quest for the presidency.

Officer Cites Missing Sign In Car Crash

The investigating officer blamed a missing stop sign for a collision at an East End intersection Monday afternoon that damaged two cars.

A 1964 auto operated by Robert L. Ehrhart, 24, of Box 141, Station A, and a 1961 convertible driven by Kenneth E. Talbott, 58, of 1623 Cleveland Ave. collided at 3:12 at Wedgewood and Etruria Sts.

Ehrhart, driving east on Etruria St., hit the side of the Talbott car, which was moving south on Wedgewood St., Patrolman Karl Samples said. A stop sign which belongs on Etruria St. at the junction is missing, the officer said. The crash damaged the right front door of Talbott's car and the front of Ehrhart's vehicle.

A Dixonvile woman went to City Hospital for treatment after her halted auto was hit from the rear Monday at 3:47 p. m. on St. Clair Ave. at Blackmore St., police said.

Eva D. Anderson, 22, of Boyd St. told officers she halted her 1967 sedan for a stopped school bus and her vehicle was hit from the rear by another 1967 sedan driven by Christopher Burnett, 17, of Skyiew Manor. There was damage to the rear of the Anderson car and the front of the Burnett auto.

The woman was treated at the hospital for a possible whiplash injury and then released.

A parking meter standard was broken off at pavement level by a drifting taxi in another mishap at St. Clair Ave. and Potters Alley at 4:37 p.m. Monday, police said.

Owned by the Yellow Cab Co. of 612 St. Clair Ave., the taxi had been parked by Wayne M. Defenbaugh, 55, of 115 W. Main St., East Palestine.

Defenbaugh told officers he pulled into Potters Alley and put the cab in "parking" gear. After he entered the cab office, the vehicle drifted backward into the sidewalk and hit the meter, police said.

Strategists Of Wallace Seen Chance For Victory

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Campaign strategists for George C. Wallace, encouraged by his gains in recent nationwide polls and a gathering momentum in his third-party race, have come to believe he has a reasonable chance to win the presidency.

In the manner of political hopefuls everywhere, they have always put on the public face of a winner, not that of a spoiler; now they seem actually to believe it.

"He's moving up, and moving up fast," said one strategist. "He could win this thing in a walk." Wallace also believes he can win, and while he admits that being president "is an awesome thing to contemplate," the possibility does not dismay him.

"When I was governor of Alabama I met Nelson Rockefeller and George Romney and some of those others who wanted to be president," he said in an interview, "and they didn't impress me as being better qualified than I."

His strategists said they intend to concentrate on 25 states with 357 electoral votes, 87 more than the 270 needed to win.

In a speech here Monday night he told 7,000 cheering Texans—who hope to deliver their state's 25 electoral votes to Wallace—that his "base" was the Southern Governor's Conference, an association of 17 states with 177 electoral votes.

Denies 'Smashed' Report

Bakery Aide Questions Board On Bun Contracts

Representatives of a Chester bakery met with the East Liverpool board of education Monday night to question why the firm had not received a contract for supply of buns for the school caferias last month.

Robert Haney of East Liverpool, manager of Nickle's Bakery, questioned the board about the contract given the Ward Baking Co. He said he represented the company and many of the bakery employes who reside in East Liverpool and pay taxes to the city school district.

Haney said it was reported at the previous board meeting that the Nickle's buns sold to the schools before "were smashed. Actually Nickles has never sold buns to the schools."

"Buns are as easy to handle as anything you can purchase," he stated. "We also felt our price of 14 cents per loaf for bread was low, and since a couple of the cafeterias are not opened yet, you could give us a chance to service these schools and compare our buns, service and prices."

"Our 17-ounce loaf figues .74 cents a slice, our competitor's price figures .79 per slice. On our 25-ounce loaf, it figures .69 cents a slice. The 24-ounce loaf contains 32 slices."

"We service all the schools in the area," Haney said, "except East Liverpool, our own school. I called on Mrs. Jaurine Lee, cafeteria supervisor, to offer present samples, but she said it was useless to talk about it because the board would have to act."

"We feel we could give you better service and better prices," Haney added. "If we can sell everyone else in the area, we would like to sell our own school."

He again commented that the newspaper had reported it had been said their buns had been smashed, and he didn't feel it was meant this way. He said Nickles has possibly the best packaging in the area.

Supt. Paul Blair then stated, "The plan for our cooks in the school program is that through commodities, we get our own flour and make our bread. We have been buying buns. The statement has been made that buns had been received smashed," he said.

Haney then said again that Nickle's prices compare with the bid that was accepted.

Supt. Blair said a contract had been entered into with Ward's with the acceptance of their bid and if the product is not satisfactory, "we reserve the right to change." Buns from them have been packed in four or five dozen to the box, and the coordinator and the people that have been using this service recommended and requested it.

Haney said, "We have never sold to East Liverpool before," again referring to the statement that buns received from them had been smashed.

Blair said it was time consuming to open individual packages, and there was a lot more paper to dispose of then.

Haney then said the health board frowns on packaging four or five buns in one box. "If the paper becomes loose, you have an unsanitary condition."

"Let us take one of the schools and service it," he said. "It hurts our prestige not to be able to sell East Liverpool."

Supt. Blair again said, "The board accepted the bid and must abide by the decision. If we run short, we can buy from you."

Haney said, "There is no written contract. You could purchase from two companies."

At this point, Supt. Blair said he wanted it understood there were no personal feelings involved. "The board and administrators accepted the recommendation of those who use these products."

The board agreed that there is no written contract with Ward's, but there is a contract in the sense that the bid was accepted, and that unless the service and product proved unsatisfactory, the board would have to abide by this decision.

Milk Comparison Set For Schools In West Beaver

A decision to use milk from Taylor Dairy of Ambridge in half of the Western Beaver Schools and from the Hyllemede Dairy of Beaver in the other half for comparison has been announced by the Western Beaver Board of Education.

The information was given today to Parent - Teacher Associations of the district in response to complaints presented last week by parents on the quality of milk being served in the system.

The announcement was made by Supt. Frank Meredith, following a study by the cafeteria committee, headed by Richard Herter, and school board members.

Mrs. Sam McKinney, spokesman for the PTA groups of Logan, Snyder and Fairview Schools, said they will take the report to a special executive board meeting of the PTAs next Tuesday at 11 a.m. at Fairview building.

Roland Delaney, elementary principal, will attend the session. The board conducted a special meeting Monday night. Attending were Meredith and a representative of the Hyllemede Dairy.

Parents complained previously that milk from Hyllemede Dairy has a bad taste and the children are not drinking it. The representative said there is nothing wrong with the milk.

2 Pen Escapees Object Of Hunt

MCCOYSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Two prison escapees, armed with an evergrowing arsenal, but minus an overlooked $70,000 were sought in south central Pennsylvania today while their two buddies were jailed under heavy bond in Harrisburg.

The four, three of them federal prisoners in transit, got the drop on authorities at the Northumberland County Prison in Sunbury early yesterday and touched off a crazy-quilt terror spree felt in several communities.

Still at large were Michael Clark, 25, Jackson, Miss., wanted on interstate auto theft charges, and Robert Carr, 22, Sunbury, a parole violator, who had escaped three weeks ago from the same jail.

State Police said early today Clark and Carr, both white, were last reported seen in this Juniata County area late Monday night in a stolen truck.

Long considered extinct by ornithologists, the spiny babbler seemingly vanished after being recorded in the 1840s. It was rediscovered in 1948 near Rekcha in western Nepal, 5,000 feet above the tropical valley of Karnali.

Denies 'Smashed' Report

Bakery Aide Questions Board On Bun Contracts

Representatives of a Chester bakery met with the East Liverpool board of education Monday night to question why the firm had not received a contract for supply of buns for the school caferias last month.

Robert Haney of East Liverpool, manager of Nickle's Bakery, questioned the board about the contract given the Ward Baking Co. He said he represented the company and many of the bakery employes who reside in East Liverpool and pay taxes to the city school district.

Haney said it was reported at the previous board meeting that the Nickle's buns sold to the schools before "were smashed. Actually Nickles has never sold buns to the schools."

"Buns are as easy to handle as anything you can purchase," he stated. "We also felt our price of 14 cents per loaf for bread was low, and since a couple of the cafeterias are not opened yet, you could give us a chance to service these schools and compare our buns, service and prices."

"Our 17-ounce loaf figues .74 cents a slice, our competitor's price figures .79 per slice. On our 25-ounce loaf, it figures .69 cents a slice. The 24-ounce loaf contains 32 slices."

"We service all the schools in the area," Haney said, "except East Liverpool, our own school. I called on Mrs. Jaurine Lee, cafeteria supervisor, to offer present samples, but she said it was useless to talk about it because the board would have to act."

"We feel we could give you better service and better prices," Haney added. "If we can sell everyone else in the area, we would like to sell our own school."

He again commented that the newspaper had reported it had been said their buns had been smashed, and he didn't feel it was meant this way. He said Nickles has possibly the best packaging in the area.

Supt. Paul Blair then stated, "The plan for our cooks in the school program is that through commodities, we get our own flour and make our bread. We have been buying buns. The statement has been made that buns had been received smashed," he said.

Haney then said again that Nickle's prices compare with the bid that was accepted.

Supt. Blair said a contract had been entered into with Ward's with the acceptance of their bid and if the product is not satisfactory, "we reserve the right to change." Buns from them have been packed in four or five dozen to the box, and the coordinator and the people that have been using this service recommended and requested it.

Haney said, "We have never sold to East Liverpool before," again referring to the statement that buns received from them had been smashed.

Blair said it was time consuming to open individual packages, and there was a lot more paper to dispose of then.

Haney then said the health board frowns on packaging four or five buns in one box. "If the paper becomes loose, you have an unsanitary condition."

"Let us take one of the schools and service it," he said. "It hurts our prestige not to be able to sell East Liverpool."

Supt. Blair again said, "The board accepted the bid and must abide by the decision. If we run short, we can buy from you."

Haney said, "There is no written contract. You could purchase from two companies."

At this point, Supt. Blair said he wanted it understood there were no personal feelings involved. "The board and administrators accepted the recommendation of those who use these products."

The board agreed that there is no written contract with Ward's, but there is a contract in the sense that the bid was accepted, and that unless the service and product proved unsatisfactory, the board would have to abide by this decision.

TRUCK DONATED. A 1968 pickup truck has been presented to the Community Rescue Mission by Samuel Groglode of 2623 St. Clair Ave., who contributed the funds. Delmas Sanford, member of the Mission board, left turns over the keys to Carl Mansfield, superintendent, who said the vehicle will be used to collect furniture, clothing and canned goods donated to the Mission.

Bid Received In Road Work

LISBON — City Asphalt & Paving of Youngstown was the only bidder Monday for blacktopping two county roads in and adjacent to Salem.

City's proposal is $34,340, compared with County Engineer John Ursu's estimate of $34,784.

The Columbiana County commissioners tabled the proposal pending action by Salem council tonight.

Scheduled for improvement are 34-100ths of a mile of Depot Rd. (County Rd. 410) from Snyder Rd. to Mill St. (all within the city), and 1.43 miles of Goshen Rd. (County Rd. 409) from the Columbiana - Mahoning line to the curbed section of the street (Jennings Ave.) one-quarter mile inside the city.

Ursu said the county will pay estimated costs of $17,614 for the work inside the city limits.

The engineer said he understands city council is considering assessing the property owners along the quarter - mile stretch of Jennings for the improvement. He said the estimated cost of blacktopping the quarter mile is approximately $4,000, which the county will pay.

The commissioners paid $15 to the city of East Liverpool for 30 stray dogs destroyed during August.

Eight seniors in cooperative office education programs at Lisbon and Leetonia high schools were hired for half days in county offices at 85 cents an hour.

They are Kathy Calabrese and Penny Jeffreys, both of Leetonia, and Elaine Crowell, Lisbon, in the treasurer's office; Jean Dudick and Jean Gauding, both of Leetonia, in the clerk of courts office; Charlotte Myers, Lisbon, prosecuting attorney's office; Mary Beth Boso, Lisbon, recorder's office, and Sheila Wherry, Lisbon, County Southwest Court.

Coordinator Job Set Up For Study Of Transit Plan

A prelude to seeking federal aid to finance a study of the feasibility of setting up a model mass transit system here, Council approved legislation Monday night establishing an Office of Transportation.

Don Eckert, planning coordinator, will serve in the additional post of transportation coordinator without any increase in salary. The ordinance authorizess him to file applications for federal grants for the technical study. Eckert's salary will comprise the city's contribution toward the cost of the study.

When the study is complete, the city will seek a grant from the federal government to set up a mass transit system here in a so-called "demonstration project" to determine if the operation should be made permanent. U.S. funds would underwrite most of the costs.

Milk Comparison Set For Schools In West Beaver

A decision to use milk from Taylor Dairy of Ambridge in half of the Western Beaver Schools and from the Hyllemede Dairy of Beaver in the other half for comparison has been announced by the Western Beaver Board of Education.

The information was given today to Parent - Teacher Associations of the district in response to complaints presented last week by parents on the quality of milk being served in the system.

The announcement was made by Supt. Frank Meredith, following a study by the cafeteria committee, headed by Richard Herter, and school board members.

Mrs. Sam McKinney, spokesman for the PTA groups of Logan, Snyder and Fairview Schools, said they will take the report to a special executive board meeting of the PTAs next Tuesday at 11 a.m. at Fairview building.

Roland Delaney, elementary principal, will attend the session. The board conducted a special meeting Monday night. Attending were Meredith and a representative of the Hyllemede Dairy.

Parents complained previously that milk from Hyllemede Dairy has a bad taste and the children are not drinking it. The representative said there is nothing wrong with the milk.

2 Pen Escapees Object Of Hunt

MCCOYSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Two prison escapees, armed with an evergrowing arsenal, but minus an overlooked $70,000 were sought in south central Pennsylvania today while their two buddies were jailed under heavy bond in Harrisburg.

The four, three of them federal prisoners in transit, got the drop on authorities at the Northumberland County Prison in Sunbury early yesterday and touched off a crazy-quilt terror spree felt in several communities.

Still at large were Michael Clark, 25, Jackson, Miss., wanted on interstate auto theft charges, and Robert Carr, 22, Sunbury, a parole violator, who had escaped three weeks ago from the same jail.

State Police said early today Clark and Carr, both white, were last reported seen in this Juniata County area late Monday night in a stolen truck.

Long considered extinct by ornithologists, the spiny babbler seemingly vanished after being recorded in the 1840s. It was rediscovered in 1948 near Rekcha in western Nepal, 5,000 feet above the tropical valley of Karnali.

Charges Against The U.S.S.R.

Herbert Reis, United States delegate to the United Nations, made a long speech Friday—to the U.N.'s Special Committee on Principles of International Law.

In his adress, he made five specific charges against the Soviet Union and successfully exposed that nations as an international lawbreaker of the first magnitude.

Basing his charges on the Russian invasion of Czechoslovakia, he said the Soviet Union violated the United Nations' "most basic principle" —respect for the sovereignty of a member and its right to treatment in law as a soveriegn equal of any other member.

HIS SECOND CHARGE was that the invasion violated the fundamental principle that U.N. members are bound by the charter to fulfill their intersational legal obligations "in good faith."

Moscow was guilty of another violation, he said, in ignoring the charter stipulation that all members are obliged to settle international disputes peacefully "in such a manner that peace, security and justice are not endangered."

A fourth violation was that the action of the Russians and their allies ignored the prohibition of the threat or use of force in international relations.

Lastly, "the invasion, occupation and police control of Czechoslovakia violated the principle of equal rights and the self-determination of peoples."

IN ADDITION to making the five charges, Mr Reis contended that the invasion and occupation constituted "intervention in the internal affairs" of Caechoslovakia.

The Soviet represetative to the committee objected unsuccessfully to the charges.

Thus his country stood before the other members of the U.N. as a lawbreaker, a maverick nation that believes the U.N. rules are for other member nations but not for the Soviet Union.

Water For The Future

Industry Borough, which has shown considerable growth in recent years, is headed for increased rate of development as the result of a new expansion project started Saturday.

Adequate water and disposal of sewage are the mundane basics of commmunity progress, vital for health necessities and home convenience, and, along with good roads, highly conducive to attracting business and industry.

As water from the Ohio River is taken to new areas in the hills and valleys on either side of our huge valley, residential and commercial development will exceed the hopes of those who tried to project the growth rate only 15 years ago.

When and if the Calcutta area is provided with water, tremendous economic strides should follow, for this whole district has a promising potential for the future, a potential already ripening with the new highways and airport, but desperately in need of water to meet the demands of the present and years to come.

Demonstrators Defeated

About 1,000 hecklers, led by the Milwaukee Catholic priest, Rev. James Groppi, and bent on spoiling a rally for George Wallace, more than met their match Thursday night in Milwaukee.

Shouting and chanting, the militant demonstrators picketed the hotel where Wallace was speaking, jeered at the "Wallace girls" who ran between protecting lines of police to their bus and then marched to the hall where Wallace was to speak, stormed in and took over a rear section of seats.

WHEN THE DEMONSTRATORS shouted and stomped so loudly that the audience couldn t even hear Wallace over the booming public address system, the Wallace supporters took up their own chant of "We want Wallace, We want Wallace!"

The audience outnumbered the demonstrators seven to one and they drowned out the militant dissenters.

The Groppi-led forces, including "commandos" wearing black and yellow sweatsrirts, apparently got the message and left after they were drowned out for the fifth time.

Apparently they had no stomach for possible post-rally clashes and decided to leave before the program was over.

THERE WAS NO OPPORTUNITY to charge police brutality because the Wallace supporters let the demonstrators know that they did not need the police and that they were numerous enough to defeat the hecklers at their own game.

Somehow the demonstrators have lost sight of the fact that a majority rules in a democracy. Perhaps a few more experiences such as "Milwaukee" will remind them, in unmistakable terms, of that fact.

Lucasville A Good Site

It is about time that someone answered a southeastern Ohio newspaper which insists on politicking in the field of penal institutions.

We agree that the Ohio Penitentiary is obsolete. Whether the recent riot was the result of this condition or otherwise is a debatable matter. We think that it was not.

Riots are a sign of the times both within and without prions. What is needed is more discipline and hard-headedness rather than wishy-washy sociological experimentation.

The decision to locate the new penitentiary in Lucasville was a wise one, we believe. It is relatively isolated, a fact which would make it much easier to apprehend escapees if that became necessary.

The argument that the prison location must be near a metropolitan city is pure nonsense. Rehabilitation is always a worthy goal but usually a dismal myth.

What is needed instead of more psychiatrists, social agencies and professional counseling are tougher laws, stricter courts, austere prison living and tight security.

Ohio should take a different approach to determine if there aren't better ways to deter crime than by catering to prisoner whims.

'Old' Vs. 'New' Nixon

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — As everyone knows, there are two Richard Nixons, the "old" Nixon and the "new" Nixon. It is not generally known that just before the presidential campaign got under way, the two Nixons had a bitter fight at a strategy meeting in Miami Beach. The "old" Nixon was told he was no longer needed, that the Republicans had decided if they were going to win in 1968 they were going to have to go with the "new" Nixon.

Art Buchwald

"You can't do this to me," the "old" Nixon cried. "I've given the best years of my life to the party and you can't throw me out now."

A REPUBLICAN strategist said gently, "We're not throwing you out, Dick, but you had your chance before and you blew it. If you blow it again, it could mean the end of the Republican party. We can't take that chance."

"What does the 'new' Nixon know about politics?" shouted the "old" Nixon. "Does he know how to get in there and fight? Does he know how to hit them in the groin and knock them over the head? Does he know how to accuse them of being soft on communism and squishy on Vietnam and disrespected all over the world? Can he slug it out toe-to-toe?"

"No, Dick, that's exactly what the Democrats expect us to do. But we're not going to play their game. We're going to talk about the forgotten man who works and pays his taxes and we're going to talk about how wonderful it is to live in the suburbs and how nice it is to go to the seashore in the summertime."

The "old" Nixon jumped to his feet and yelled, "What kind of campaign is that? You have to go for the jugular. Nice guys finish last."

THE "NEW" NIXON said, "Sit down, Dick, and listen carefully. This is a unique election situation. We don't have to attack the Democrats because they're going to make mincemeat out of each other. In order for Humphrey to get anywhere in the election he's going to have to attack Lyndon Johnson's policies in Vietnam. Then to defend himself Lyndon Johnson is going to have to attack Hubert Humphrey. Gene McCarthy will attack both of them, and all we have to do is sit back and talk about crabgrass in the United States."

"It's too risky," the "old" Nixon said. "You'll bore the heck out of the people. The public doesn't want a 'new' Nixon. They want the 'old' Nixon they used to kick around all the time. They're used to me and they know what to expect. You throw another Nixon at them now and they'll all go out and vote for George Wallace."

One of the Republican strategists said, 'Dick, you know that I have more respect for the 'old' Nixon than anybody in this room. But times have changed and we need a fresh image, someone, and I have to be frank now, who can make the voter forget the 'old' Nixon."

The "old" Nixon pointed his finger at the "new" Nixon and screamed, "He's out to get my job. Do you think he could ever get the goods on Alger Hiss or debate the cold war with Khrushchev in a kitchen, or get pelted with rotten vegetable in South America? You bet your sweet life he couldn't. Now, after all I've done, old Tricky Dick is getting the heave-ho from the party."

THE "NEW" NIXON said sadly, "I'm sorry you had to bring it down to personalities, Dick. I was hoping that because of what the party means to you that you would support me and get behind me, if not for my sake, then for Ike's."

The "old" Nixon stared at the floor and one of the men said, "We still need you, Dick. You could play a big part in this election. We can use your tactics and your experience in gut fighting."

The "old" Nixon said finally, "What do you want me to do?"

"Will you become Spiro Agnew's campaign manager?"

'You Must Be Kidding, Mac!'

VICTOR RIESEL

Labor Chiefs Fear Wallace

NEW YORK: — Suddenly the world-that-was is discovering George Corley Wallace. But it still sees him through opaque glasses. It views him as a buffoon trailed by illiterates in shirt sleeves and exposed suspenders. What it doesn't see is the swing to him of the old left as well as the new right.

Victor Riesel

Streaming to the Alabamar are old Socialists, later-day Populists, school teachers by the scores of thousands, veteran labor people who were rank-and-file activists, civil service employes who sulk at black leapfrogging in rank as well as police and firemen who come to the American Independent Party headquarters in uniform — petitions and cash in hand.

I have in hand a memorandum from an old New York Socialist and labor leader. He writes, "I am for Wallace, circulating petitions for him and am a volunteer assistant in local office." He proceeds, then, to report pro-Wallce activity in Buffalo, N.Y., his home city.

He reports strong Wallace sentiment in the Bell Aircraft, Bethlehem Steel, Allied Chemical, and Chevrolet plants, as well as in rubber and construction trades unions. There is even a Negro for Wallace Committee, headed by a United Steelworkers Union veteran now editor of a black monthly paper.

THE BUFFALO SOURCE sees Mr. Wallace as a Populist champion stirring the greatest grass-roots movement since Andrew Jackson and Harry Truman.

Perhaps the old Socialist is an enthusiast. But the record does show fantastic support in white-collar as well as blue-collar ranks. There is no doubt of the spread of Wallace mystique is New York City school teacher circles. Who would have thought this a year ago? Yet go to any teachers' gathering. You'll hear them say they'll vote on the American Independent Party or the Courage Party lines. Why? To protest, that's why. Protest what? They look at you and say — read the newspapers.

Mr. Wallace's politically professional anti-intellectualism mirrors him as a hillbilly medicine man in academia. But that's only because the literates rarely get off the campus for more than round-table dialogues with each other.

To the grass roots, men. Do what the labor movement is doing. It has polled its own people. It hasn't awaited a pro-Wallace resolution from some United Auto Workers union such as the Ternstedt Local 326 in Flint, Mich. — which has a Negro mayor, Floyd McCree.

UNION CHIEFS, now in this city for their high command conference, take very seriously the poll showing that George Wallace will draw 50 per cent of the Southern union vote. They are more shocked, however, to learn that an official poll of New York unionists shows a 30 per cent draw by the man from Montgomery, Ala.; a 24 per cent slice of Pennsylvania labor; a 26 per cent cut into the million-member International Assn. of Machinists; and a 31 per cent scoop of the Maryland dues payers.

Thus it is in state after state, heavier in some, such as Michigan, Indiana and Ohio, lighter in others, such as Illinois, but always intensely disturbing to the national labor leadership.

So, this high command has just launched its counterattack inside labor. AFL-CIO state labor councils are preparing special four-page leaflets and open letters scalding ex-Governor Wallace. They accuse him, in these booklets which will be unleashed by the millions, of having tolerated crime and murder in his own state. They denounce him for having fought labor. They charge him with having held down wages.

THEIR ACCOUNT EXECUTIVE for consultation on the counteroffensive is Barney Weeks, president of the Alabama State AFL-CIO Council. He's considered labor's most authoritative expert on Wallace-ism.

Mr. Weeks, who is spending long hours in Washington these days, may be labor's secret weapon. The unionists are in desperate need of propaganda arsenal. Mr. Wallace has doubled their burden.

They are so heavily pledged to Hubert Humphrey's victory that a defeat for the "triple H" would cost the AFL-CIO it's easy access to the White House. Also, labor's political imagery would be washed away completely if Vice President Humphrey was landslided out because the national union chiefs could not keep their own people from defecting to the Alabamian.

They still have some seven weeks to get to their rank and file. But so does George Wallace.

I just read the evening paper and couldn't help but write this letter. I enjoy Mr. Abrams' poems so much as many do, and I was glad to see one in The Review again.

I hope they will continue, for they are one of the highlights of the feature pages.

Court Image

The American people "seem to be fed up" with the Supreme Court. That's what is being said to many of the campaign workers in both parties as they canvass voters. It appears to be one of the "grievances" which have emerged because of the failure to reduce crime in America.

A Gallup Poll taken in June 1968 asked for the attitude of citizens toward Supreme Court decisions. The survey showed 63 per cent "unfavorable" and 11 per cent with "no opinion." This compared with a June 1967 poll in which only 46 per cent were "unfavorable" and 9 per cent had "no opinion."

MOST OF THE PEOPLE critical of the high court are not familiar with the nuances of judicial opinions, but are generally unhappy nevertheless about the impact of the rulings on the life of the country. The feeling is that criminals are being let loose through technicalitie and legal quibbles. The police in various cities often talk about this, and they tell their friends how hard it is to make arrests and get convictions — something which could act as a deterrent to crime.

Th dissatisfaction with the Supreme Court can be summarized as follows:

1. Its rulings have revamped. criminal law and procedures so that criminals have an easy time keeping out of jail.

2. The court has been digging into racial problems which many people have thought were not within its authority.

3. The court has ignored precedents in previous decisions, and has, according to the views of the critics, felt it has the power to "rewrite the constitution." This has led to the charge that the Supreme Court had become virtually a "third legislative body."

4. The court has not hesitated to decide many issues which previously had been considered either up to Congress or the states to deal with by law. The criticism is that the court has been legislating instead of deciding whether laws are valid under the constitution.

5. The court has ruled on social problems which previously had been left up to the people themselves or to the state legislatures.

6 . The court has failed to exercise what is often called "judicial restraint."

Most of the court rulings are too technical for the average person to grasp. But the lawyers who do study the court's opinions often comment informally on them to others. The impression herefore, is spreadintg that the Supreme Court has been usurping power which it was never intended to have.

Many members of Congress are convinced that there ought to be judicial reform and that supreme court justices should be required to retire at a certain age or else serve only for a fixed term of perhaps 10 years.

It has been suggested, too, that appointments should be confirmed by both the House and the Senate, and also that a national panel of judges should be asked to make recommendations to the president on filling vacancies on the courto

There has been a good deal of dissension, too, about the outside activities of Supreme Court justices. Some of them have actually made speeches which had political overtones. Others have felt justified in counseling the administration in power.

The general feeling has been that a Supreme Court justice should not, directly or indirectly, become involved in the activities of any other branch of government and should avoid public comment on controversal subjects related to the court's businss.

BASICALLY, criticism of the court is due to its alleged readiness to consider the rights of criminals as more important that the rights of the people who are the victims of criminal attack.

Again and again, murderers have been released because of technicalities developed during the process of arrest or trial or because of some evidence which may have been obtained through "bugging' or tapping of telephones.

Objectionable as these methods are, lots of people still feel that anyone who has committed murder or other serious crimes should be punished when found guilty.

It seems certain when there are vacancies in the court after the next president of the United States takes office, the public will insist upon knowing more about the nominee and especially the kind of opinions he has previously expressed on matters of "law and order."

Charges Against The U.S.S.R.

Herbert Reis, United States delegate to the United Nations, made a long speech Friday—to the U.N.'s Special Committee on Principles of International Law.

In his adress, he made five specific charges against the Soviet Union and successfully exposed that nations as an international lawbreaker of the first magnitude.

Basing his charges on the Russian invasion of Czechoslovakia, he said the Soviet Union violated the United Nations' "most basic principle" —respect for the sovereignty of a member and its right to treatment in law as a soveriegn equal of any other member.

HIS SECOND CHARGE was that the invasion violated the fundamental principle that U.N. members are bound by the charter to fulfill their international legal obligations "in good faith."

Moscow was guilty of another violation, he said, in ignoring the charter stipulation that all members are obliged to settle international disputes peacefully "in such a manner that peace, security and justice are not endangered."

A fourth violation was that the action of the Russians and their allies ignored the prohibition of the threat or use of force in international relations.

Lastly, "the invasion, occupation and police control of Czechoslovakia violated the principle of equal rights and the self-determination of peoples."

IN ADDITION to making the five charges, Mr. Reis contended that the invasion and occupation constituted "intervention in the internal affairs" of Caechoslovakia.

The Soviet represetative to the committee objected unsuccessfully to the charges.

Thus his country stood before the other members of the U.N. as a lawbreaker, a maverick nation that believes the U.N. rules are for other member nations but not for the Soviet Union.

Water For The Future

Industry Borough, which has shown considerable growth in recent years, is headed for increased rate of development as the result of a new expansion project started Saturday.

Adequate water and disposal of sewage are the mundane basics of commmunity progress, vital for health necessities and home convenience, and, along with good roads, highly conducive to attracting business and industry.

As water from the Ohio River is taken to new areas in the hills and valleys on either side of our huge valley, residential and commercial development will exceed the hopes of those who tried to project the growth rate only 15 years ago.

When and if the Calcutta area is provided with water, tremendous economic strides should follow, for this whole district has a promising potential for the future, a potential already ripening with the new highways and airport, but desperately in need of water to meet the demands of the present and years to come.

Demonstrators Defeated

About 1,000 hecklers, led by the Milwaukee Catholic priest, Rev. James Groppi, and bent on spoiling a rally for George Wallace, more than met their match Thursday night in Milwaukee.

Shouting and chanting, the militant demonstrators picketed the hotel where Wallace was speaking, jeered at the "Wallace girls" who ran between protecting lines of police to their bus and then marched to the hall where Wallace was to speak, stormed in and took over a rear section of seats.

WHEN THE DEMONSTRATORS shouted and stomped so loudly that the audience couldn't even hear Wallace over the booming public address system, the Wallace supporters took up their own chant of "We want Wallace, We want Wallace!"

The audience outnumbered the demonstrators seven to one and they drowned out the militant dissenters.

The Groppi-led forces, including "commandos" wearing black and yellow sweatsrirts, apparently got the message and left after they were drowned out for the fifth time.

Apparently they had no stomach for possible post-rally clashes and decided to leave before the program was over.

THERE WAS NO OPPORTUNITY to charge police brutality because the Wallace supporters let the demonstrators know that they did not need the police and that they were numerous enough to defeat the hecklers at their own game.

Somehow the demonstrators have lost sight of the fact that a majority rules in a democracy. Perhaps a few more experiences such as "Milwaukee" will remind them, in unmistakable terms, of that fact.

Lucasville A Good Site

It is about time that someone answered a southeastern Ohio newspaper which insists on politicking in the field of penal institutions.

We agree that the Ohio Penitentiary is obsolete. Whether the recent riot was the result of this condition or otherwise is a debatable matter. We think that it was not.

Riots are a sign of the times both within and without prions. What is needed is more discipline and hard-headedness rather than wishy-washy sociological experimentation.

The decision to locate the new penitentiary in Lucasville was a wise one, we believe. It is relatively isolated, a fact which would make it much easier to apprehend escapees if that became necessary.

The argument that the prison location must be near a metropolitan city is pure nonsense. Rehabilitation is always a worthy goal but usually a dismal myth.

What is needed instead of more psychiatrists, social agencies and professional counseling are tougher laws, stricter courts, austere prison living and tight security.

Ohio should take a different approach to determine if there aren't better ways to deter crime than by catering to prisoner whims.

'Old' Vs. 'New' Nixon

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — As everyone knows, there are two Richard Nixons, the "old" Nixon and the "new" Nixon. It is not generally known that just before the presidential campaign got under way, the two Nixons had a bitter fight at a strategy meeting in Miami Beach. The "old" Nixon was told he was no longer needed, that the Republicans had decided if they were going to win in 1968 they were going to have to go with the "new" Nixon.

Art Buchwald

"You can't do this to me," the "old" Nixon cried. "I've given the best years of my life to the party and you can't throw me out now."

A REPUBLICAN strategist said gently, "We're not throwing you out, Dick, but you had your chance before and you blew it. If you blow it again, it could mean the end of the Republican party. We can't take that chance."

"What does the 'new' Nixon know about politics?" shouted the "old" Nixon. "Does he know how to get in there and fight? Does he know how to hit them in the groin and knock them over the head? Does he know how to accuse them of being soft on communism and squishy on Vietnam and disrespected all over the world? Can he slug it out toe-to-toe?"

"No, Dick, that's exactly what the Democrats expect us to do. But we're not going to play their game. We're going to talk about the forgotten man who works and pays his taxes and we're going to talk about how wonderful it is to live in the suburbs and how nice it is to go to the seashore in the summertime."

The "old" Nixon jumped to his feet and yelled, "What kind of campaign is that? You have to go for the jugular. Nice guys finish last."

THE "NEW" NIXON said, "Sit down, Dick, and listen carefully. This is a unique election situation. We don't have to attack the Democrats because they're going to make mincemeat out of each other. In order for Humphrey to get anywhere in the election he's going to have to attack Lyndon Johnson's policies in Vietnam. Then to defend himself Lyndon Johnson is going to have to attack Hubert Humphrey. Gene McCarthy will attack both of them, and all we have to do is sit back and talk about crabgrass in the United States."

"It's too risky," the "old" Nixon said. "You'll bore the heck out of the people. The public doesn't want a 'new' Nixon. They want the 'old' Nixon they used to kick around all the time. They're used to me and they know what to expect. You throw another Nixon at them now and they'll all go out and vote for George Wallace."

One of the Republican strategists said, 'Dick, you know that I have more respect for the 'old' Nixon than anybody in this room. But times have changed and we need a fresh image, someone, and I have to be frank now, who can make the voter forget the 'old' Nixon."

The "old" Nixon pointed his finger at the "new" Nixon and screamed, "He's out to get my job. Do you think he could ever get the goods on Alger Hiss or debate the cold war with Khrushchev in a kitchen, or get pelted with rotten vegetable in South America? You bet your sweet life he couldn't. Now, after all I've done, old Tricky Dick is getting the heave-ho from the party."

THE "NEW" NIXON said sadly, "I'm sorry you had to bring it down to personalities, Dick. I was hoping that bcause of what the party means to you that you would support me and get behind me, if not for my sake, then for Ike's."

The "old" Nixon stared at the floor and one of the men said, "We still need you, Dick. You could play a big part in this election. We can use your tactics and your experience in gut fighting."

The "old" Nixon said finally, "What do you want me to do?"

"Will you become Spiro Agnew's campaign manager?"

'You Must Be Kidding, Mac!'

VICTOR RIESEL

Labor Chiefs Fear Wallace

NEW YORK: — Suddenly the world-that-was is discovering George Corley Wallace. But it still sees him through opaque glasses. It views him as a buffoon trailed by illiterates in shirt sleeves and exposed suspenders. What it doesn't see is the swing to him of the old left as well as the new right.

Victor Riesel

Streaming to the Alabamar are old Socialists, later-day Populists, school teachers by the scores of thousands, veteran labor people who were rank-and-file activists, civil service employes who sulk at black leapfrogging in rank as well as police and firemen who come to the American Independent Party headquarters in uniform — petitions and cash in hand.

I have in hand a memorandum from an old New York Socialist and labor leader. He writes, "I am for Wallace, circulating petitions for him and am a volunteer assistant in local office." He proceeds, then, to report pro-Wallce activity in Buffalo, N.Y., his home city.

He reports strong Wallace sentiment in the Bell Aircraft, Bethlehem Steel, Allied Chemical, and Chevrolet plants, as well as in rubber and construction trades unions. There is even a Negro for Wallace Committee, headed by a United Steelworkers Union veteran now editor of a black monthly paper.

THE BUFFALO SOURCE sees Mr. Wallace as a Populist champion stirring the greatest grass-roots movement since Andrew Jackson and Harry Truman.

Perhaps the old Socialist is an enthusiast. But the record does show fantastic support in white-collar as well as blue-collar ranks. There is no doubt of the spread of Wallace mystique is New York City school teacher circles. Who would have thought this a year ago? Yet go to any teachers' gathering. You'll hear them say they'll vote on the American Independent Party or the Courage Party lines. Why? To protest, that's why. Protest what? They look at you and say — read the newspapers.

Mr. Wallace's politically professional anti-intellectualism mirrors him as a hillbilly medicine man in academia. But that's only because the literates rarely get off the campus for more than round-table dialogues with each other.

To the grass roots, men. Do what the labor movement is doing. It has polled its own people. It hasn't awaited a pro-Wallace resolution from some United Auto Workers union such as the Ternstedt Local 326 in Flint, Mich. — which has a Negro mayor, Floyd McCree.

UNION CHIEFS, now in this city for their high command conference, take very seriously the poll showing that George Wallace will draw 50 per cent of the Southern union vote. They are more shocked, however, to learn that an official poll of New York unionists shows a 30 per cent draw by the man from Montgomery, Ala.; a 24 per cent slice of Pennsylvania labor; a 26 per cent cut into the million-member International Assn. of Machinists; and a 31 per cent scoop of the Maryland dues payers.

Thus it is in state after state, heavier in some, such as Michigan, Indiana and Ohio, lighter in others, such as Illinois, but always intensely disturbing to the national labor leadership.

So, this high command has just launched its counterattack inside labor. AFL-CIO state labor councils are preparing special four-page leaflets and open letters scalding ex-Governor Wallace. They accuse him, in these booklets which will be unleashed by the millions, of having tolerated crime and murder in his own state. They denounce him for having fought labor. They charge him with having held down wages.

THEIR ACCOUNT EXECUTIVE for consultation on the counteroffensive is Barney Weeks, president of the Alabama State AFL-CIO Council. He's considered labor's most authoritative expert on Wallace-ism.

Mr. Weeks, who is spending long hours in Washington these days, may be labor's secret weapon. The unionists are in desperate need of propaganda arsenal. Mr. Wallace has doubled their burden.

They are so heavily pledged to Hubert Humphrey's victory that a defeat for the "triple H" would cost the AFL-CIO it's easy access to the White House. Also, labor's political imagery would be washed away completely if Vice President Humphrey was landslided out because the national union chiefs could not keep their own people from defecting to the Alabamian.

They still have some seven weeks to get to their rank and file. But so does George Wallace.

I just read the evening paper and couldn't help but write this letter. I enjoy Mr. Abrams' poems so much as many do, and I was glad to see one in The Review again.

I hope they will continue, for they are one of the highlights of the feature pages.

Court Image

The American people "seem to be fed up" with the Supreme Court. That's what is being said to many of the campaign workers in both parties as they canvass voters. It appears to be one of the "grievances" which have emerged because of the failure to reduce crime in America.

A Gallup Poll taken in June 1968 asked for the attitude of citizens toward Supreme Court decisions. The survey showed 63 per cent "unfavorable" and 11 per cent with "no opinion." This compared with a June 1967 poll in which only 46 per cent were "unfavorable" and 9 per cent had "no opinion."

MOST OF THE PEOPLE critical of the high court are not familiar with the nuances of judicial opinions, but are generally unhappy nevertheless about the impact of the rulings on the life of the country. The feeling is that criminals are being let loose through technicalitie and legal quibbles. The police in various cities often talk about this, and they tell their friends how hard it is to make arrests and get convictions — something which could act as a deterrent to crime.

Th dissatisfaction with the Supreme Court can be summarized as follows:

1. Its rulings have revamped criminal law and procedures so that criminals have an easy time keeping out of jail.

2. The court has been digging into racial problems which many people have thought were not within its authority.

3. The court has ignored precedents in previous decisions, and has, according to the views of the critics, felt it has the power to "rewrite the constitution." This has led to the charge that the Supreme Court had become virtually a "third legislative body."

4. The court has not hesitated to decide many issues which previously had been considered either up to Congress or the states to deal with by law. The criticism is that the court has been legislating instead of deciding whether laws are valid under the constitution.

5. The court has ruled on social problems which previously had been left up to the people themselves or to the state legislatures.

6 . The court has failed to exercise what is often called "judicial restraint."

Most of the court rulings are too technical for the average person to grasp. But the lawyers who do study the court's opinions often comment informally on them to others. The impression herefore, is spreadintg that the Supreme Court has been usurping power which it was never intended to have.

Many members of Congress are convinced that there ought to be judicial reform and that supreme court justices should be required to retire at a certain age or else serve only for a fixed term of perhaps 10 years.

It has been suggested, too, that appointments should be confirmed by both the House and the Senate, and also that a national panel of judges should be asked to make recommendations to the president on filling vacancies on the courto

There has been a good deal of dissension, too, about the outside activities of Supreme Court justices. Some of them have actually made speeches which had political overtones. Others have felt justified in counseling the administration in power.

The general feeling has been that a Supreme Court justice should not, directly or indirectly, become involved in the activities of any other branch of government and should avoid public comment on controversal subjects related to the court's businss.

BASICALLY, criticism of the court is due to its alleged readiness to consider the rights of criminals as more important that the rights of the people who are the victims of criminal attack.

Again and again, murderers have been released because of technicalities developed during the process of arrest or trial or because of some evidence which may have been obtained through "bugging' or tapping of telephones.

Objectionable as these methods are, lots of people still feel that anyone who has committed murder or other serious crimes should be punished when found guilty.

It seems certain when there are vacancies in the court after the next president of the United States takes office, the public will insist upon knowing more about the nominee and especially the kind of opinions he has previously expressed on matters of "law and order."

Zoning

Wooley, city building and zoning inspector. The hearing is due Sept. 26.

—:—

WILLISON is charged with changing the use of the property from R-3 (medium high density residential) to B-1 (neighborhood business) without official authority. He also has a request for a change of zoning before the City Planning Commission. Willison said he uses most of the structure as a wholesale grocery warehouse, but intended to rent part of it for use as a beauty shop.

The discussion of East End zoning began at 8, immediately after Council convened last night, and continued until 9:25. It was then that Council voted to refer the question to its planning committee, comprised of Robert W. Sample, Donal Burcham and John Wilson, with instructions to make an investigation and report its findings "in two or three days." A special meeting will be called, if necessary, to vote any changes the committee recommends, Council said.

In his lengthy argument to Council, Willison took the position that most of Pennsylvania Ave. is a commercial area, rather than a residential district. He passed around photos of dilapidated commercial buildings which he said have been standing vacant since the area was zoned for residential use. He said there are 79 business buildings and 110 homes fronting on the affected stretch.

HE SAID 90 to 120 days are required for a zoning change application to be processed. The delay is so long that a small businessman could "starve to death" while the decision is pending, Willison charged. He said the existing businesses should be allowed to operate under a dispensation from Council until some binding decision is made on the future zoning of the area.

A woman in the audience said she owns a vacant business building in the 1100 block of Pennsylvania Ave., but cannot rent it. Prospective tenants do not want to occupy the building after learning they would have to go through a lengthy process for rezoning, she said.

"The building is sitting there vacant and I can't do a thing with it," she said. "It's zoned residential."

Mary Mickey, a beauty shop operator, said the city "closed me up" on the grounds her business did not comply with the zoning law. She said she now has no way to make a living.

Howard Arb told Council he rented a building on Pennsylvania Ave. intending to start a used car business, but was told it was illegal. He said he already had spent money on plumbing, a sign, lights and window repair. He said he sought to operate in a building that had been used for many years as a garage.

Frank McEwen told Council he purchased a building intending to operate a used furniture store "but the city closed me down after three days." "I have seven children to support," he added.

Charles E. Goodman, operator of an auto body shop on Pennsylvania Ave., declared that the street "never has been anything but a business street." Council should ask itself who will pay the taxes on the properties if the businesses are forced to close, he said.

When the area was zoned for residential use, existing businesses were allowed by the law to continue. They are termed "non-conforming," but may continue indefinitely as long as the basic character of the business is not changed.

If a structure is used as a neighborhood grocery, for instance, and the business ceases it still may be utilized for the same type of business provided the operation begins in less than two years. But if there is a lapse of more than two years following the closing of the business, the use of the structure must conform to the zoning of the surrounding area.

A man in the audience told Council he paid $19,500 for the former Woodbine Laundry Co. building on Pennsylvania Ave., intending to set up a car wash business, but found he could not, under the zoning law. The big brick structure is standing vacant with most of the windows broken out, he said.

After some more argument, Solicitor J. Michael Kapp told the audience it is his opinion that Council could rezone the entire area in question, rather than waiting for individual applications to be filed by property owners, as has been the practice in the past.

—:—

COUNCILMAN Frank Duffy, an East End resident for 45 years, told Council it should exercise its prerogative to change the zoning. He moved to set aside the zoning laws, effective immediately, "until this question is settled," and allow the businesses to operate in the meantime.

There was no second to his motion. He admitted that he voted for the zoning ordinance when it was enacted, but added: "When I make a mistake I try to rectify it." He was greeted with loud applause from the audience.

Councilman Floyd Murray asked if "it would be legal for me to second the motion to suspend the zoning law." Kapp replied he would draw up the legislation on the spot if Council desired.

Councilman Edward Massey said he could not support a motion to suspend the law, which would have affected the entire city — not just East End. But he said he intended to move for a study of the question by the Council planning committee, the solicitor and East End residents.

Addressing the audience, Councilman James Lowe said: "Duffy tells you what you want to hear. Last year, he was opposed to the Valu-King Store up there. What is his position now? I'm against allowing a person to open a business for 30, 60 or 90 days and then telling them they have to quit.

Duffy replied he opposed the market operation in East End because of a noise nuisance.

Council recessed at 9:10 at Bucher's suggestion to thresh over the question in the caucus room.

—:—

WHEN THE meeting resumed, Murray seconded Duffy's motion to suspend the zoning ordinance immediately and allow business places to operate without regard to the law.

The motion was defeated 4-2. Duffy and Murray supported it, but negative votes were cast by Burcham, Lowe, Massey, Sample and Wilson.

Then Murray moved to refer the problem to the planning committee and the solicitor to investigate and report quickly. The motion passed unanimously.

Planning Coordinator Don Eckert told the group he would be willing to attend any East End meeting to explain the reading from the City Code, listed for the audience the types of businesses that would be permitted to operate if the area is rezoned. They include: Retail business, professional services, offices, banks, hotels and motels, taverns, restaurants, mortuaries and gas stations. Despite the zoning regulations, a tavern would be illegal in that section, as it was voted dry many years ago.

Moonshine

is cooled, it stops "working" and not as much moonshine is obtained, it was pointed out.

—:—

THE BULB was lighted by an extension cord run from the Uhlworm garage. A heater utilizing pressurized white gasoline was used to operate the still. The cooler was made from a galvanized garbage can with copper coins inside. Ice and water was used to cool the alcohol as it came from the mash being cooked.

Whisky mash was fermenting in the barrel at the time of the raid. Zlatovich said the moonshine was being peddled in the area, with some going to East Liverpool and Wellsville.

He said the odor of the still could be detected in the hollow. When questioned, Uhlworm admitted making moonshine and his step-daughter gave information on the location of the still.

Zlatovich praised his officers, commenting "they did a very good job considering they had never worked on a similar case before."

It took the officers three hours to collect and pack the equipment and whisky, some already in jugs and jars.

The whisky will be analyzed by county authorities.

Howard Arb told Council he rented a building on Pennsylvania Ave. intending to start a used car business, but was told it was illegal. He said he already had spent money on plumbing, a sign, lights and window repair. He said he sought to operate in a building that had been used for many years as a garage.

Frank McEwen told Council he purchased a building intending to operate a used furniture store "but the city closed me down after three days." "I have seven children to support," he added.

Charles E. Goodman, operator of an auto body shop on Pennsylvania Ave., declared that the street "never has been anything but a business street." Council should ask itself who will pay the taxes on the properties if the businesses are forced to close, he said.

When the area was zoned for residential use, existing businesses were allowed by the law to continue. They are termed "non-conforming," but may continue indefinitely as long as the basic character of the business is not changed.

If a structure is used as a neighborhood grocery, for instance, and the business ceases it still may be utilized for the same type of business provided the operation begins in less than two years. But if there is a lapse of more than two years following the closing of the business, the use of the structure must conform to the zoning of the surrounding area.

A man in the audience told Council he paid $19,500 for the former Woodbine Laundry Co. building on Pennsylvania Ave., intending to set up a car wash business, but found he could not, under the zoning law. The big brick structure is standing vacant with most of the windows broken out, he said.

After some more argument, Solicitor J. Michael Kapp told the audience it is his opinion that Council could rezone the entire area in question, rather than waiting for individual applications to be filed by property owners, as has been the practice in the past.

—:—

COUNCILMAN Frank Duffy, an East End resident for 45 years, told Council it should exercise its prerogative to change the zoning. He moved to set aside the zoning laws, effective immediately, "until this question is settled," and allow the businesses to operate in the meantime.

There was no second to his motion. He admitted that he voted for the zoning ordinance when it was enacted, but added: "When I make a mistake I try to rectify it." He was greeted with loud applause from the audience.

Councilman Floyd Murray asked if "it would be legal for me to second the motion to suspend the zoning law." Kapp replied he would draw up the legislation on the spot if Council desired.

Councilman Edward Massey said he could not support a motion to suspend the law, which would have affected the entire city — not just East End. But he said he intended to move for a study of the question by the Council planning committee, the solicitor and East End residents.

Addressing the audience, Councilman James Lowe said: "Duffy tells you what you want to hear. Last year, he was opposed to the Valu-King Store up there. What is his position now? I'm against allowing a person to open a business for 30, 60 or 90 days and then telling them they have to quit.

Duffy replied he opposed the market operation in East End because of a noise nuisance.

Council recessed at 9:10 at Bucher's suggestion to thresh over the question in the caucus room.

—:—

WHEN THE meeting resumed, Murray seconded Duffy's motion to suspend the zoning ordinance immediately and allow business places to operate without regard to the law.

The motion was defeated 4-2. Duffy and Murray supported it, but negative votes were cast by Burcham, Lowe, Massey, Sample and Wilson.

Then Murray moved to refer the problem to the planning committee and the solicitor to investigate and report quickly. The motion passed unanimously.

Planning Coordinator Don Eckert told the group he would be willing to attend any East End meeting to explain the reading from the City Code, listed for the audience the types of businesses that would be permitted to operate if the area is rezoned. They include: Retail business, professional services, offices, banks, hotels and motels, taverns, restaurants, mortuaries and gas stations. Despite the zoning regulations, a tavern would be illegal in that section, as it was voted dry many years ago.

is cooled, it stops "working" and not as much moonshine is obtained, it was pointed out.

—:—

THE BULB was lighted by an extension cord run from the Uhlworm garage. A heater utilizing pressurized white gasoline was used to operate the still. The cooler was made from a galvanized garbage can with copper coins inside. Ice and water was used to cool the alcohol as it came from the mash being cooked.

Whisky mash was fermenting in the barrel at the time of the raid. Zlatovich said the moonshine was being peddled in the area, with some going to East Liverpool and Wellsville.

He said the odor of the still could be detected in the hollow. When questioned, Uhlworm admitted making moonshine and his step-daughter gave information on the location of the still.

Zlatovich praised his officers, commenting "they did a very good job considering they had never worked on a similar case before."

It took the officers three hours to collect and pack the equipment and whisky, some already in jugs and jars.

The whisky will be analyzed by county authorities.

Board Ok's Snow Truck

Approval of plans for purchase of a truck with snow removal equipment for use at the new East Liverpool High School — North Elementary complex and other schools was granted by the board of education Monday night.

The board also authorized purchase of scoreboards for the new high school gymnasium, and acted upon various resignations, appointments and tuition requests.

George Ward, board member, said, "We definitely need snow removal equipment, and we should not delay in placing an order." After some discussion, the board gave approval for Supt. Paul Blair to obtain quotations for the equipment and placing and order.

Clarence O'Hanlon, building and grounds supervisor, will assist Supt. Blair. The equipment will have to cost less than $6,000 to be purchased without obtaining bids, it was explained.

—:—

WILLIAM BLAIR, board member, reported the Athletic Board has asked Tom Rodfong and himself to investigate the purchase of score boards for the gymnasium. Blair said they felt, after talking to many people, that two score boards, one at each end of the gym, would be better than a 'center of the floor' board.

He added that the "Field House" was at the disposal of other groups in the city, and that it would also be used by school classes. For this reason, the school board should purchase the items and not the booster's group, he said.

Ward said he believes the revenue from the sport should be used for paying for the scoreboard.

William Blair made the motion to purchase the scoreboards, and Thomas Rodfong seconded the motion. Blair, Rodfong, and Harry McConville voted to purchase the boards. Ward and Samuel Brown abstained from voting. The boards and installation will cost approximately $2,000.

In other business, resignations were accepted from Mrs. Susan Tripp, hired earlier to teach elementary; Mrs. Joyce Kontnier, a secretary who earlier had asked for a leave of absence; William C. Smith, custodian, and Mrs. Ruth Griffin and Mrs. Stella Rankin, cafeteria worker and cafeteria cashier.

SUPT. BLAIR presented a letter of resignation from Ray Goodman, instructor, and recommended the board go on record as not accepting his resignation. He explained that in a case of this kind, it would be noted to the state that the individual involved had broken his contract, and he would not then be allowed to teach in Ohio for one year. Goodman has apparently accepted a position in the Philadelphia area.

McConville moved that Goodman's resignation be accepted, but the motion died for lack of a second. Rodfong then moved that the board approve the superintendent's recommendation and not accept Goodman's resignation. William Blair seconded and then amended the motion to read that Goodman not be allowed to teach in East Liverpool unless the state compelled the board to honor the original contract.

In other business, Mrs. Mary E. Thompson of Calcutta was hired as a high school commercial teacher. She had been a substitute in the same department.

Mrs. Frankie Harris was hired for vocal music in the high school and East Junior.

Allan James of Industry was hired to teach junior high English. He has a bachelor's degree from Geneva College.

—:—

MISS LYNN Llewellyn of 1128 Vine St., who has a degree from Mt. Union College and who has attended the University of Pittsburgh and Eastern Montana College at Billings, Mont., was hired as librarian at East Junior High School and the elementary schools.

Study hall monitors hired were Mrs. Joyce Wyand, Miss Eva Downard, Mrs. Norma Jean Ollis and Mrs. Jean Haught, all of East Liverpool and Mrs. Edna Buchholz of Lisbon Rds. The rate of pay for the monitors was set at $2 an hour.

Sgt. James Fisher, who retired from the Army Aug. 30, was employed as the ROTC enlisted instructor. He is from Uniontown, Pa.

Randall Stover of MC 21, will teach mechanical drawing at the high school. Stover was employed by architect Robert Beatty for two years and has been attending Kent State University.

Homer B. Hoskinson of 827 Crestview Dr. was hired as the vocational drafting teacher. Hoskinson has been employed by a refractories company at Gateway Center, Pittsburgh, and has attended Purdue University, the former Carnegie Institute of Technology and Penn State University Extension.

The board approved two requests for non - resident students to attend city schools, with tuition to be paid by the families.

—:—

THEY INCLUDED Bonnie Geer, daughter of Mrs. Clark A. Geer of New Cumberland. The Geers plan to establish a business in East Liverpool. Dr. and Mrs. Virgil Ciccarelli of Newell have three children who will be attending Westgate Elementary School.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dubberly of Imperial Dr. asked permission for their son Scott to attend Beaver Local High School and be granted permission to participate in athletic events. The board gave approval with the understanding the Dubberly's would pay the tuition.

William Blair then said he felt the board should send a letter to the Beaver Local board and suggest a reciprocal arrangement. This was approved.

The board approved rental of Westgate School for the East Liverpool Dahlia and Floral Show Sept. 20-22 and rental of East Junior High Gym to the Dickey All - Stars on Tuesdays beginning in October for basketball practice. Supt. Blair explained the school officials reserve the right to schedule these practice sessions, because others also use the buildings for this purpose.

Approval of travel allowance for Curtis Miller, assistant to the superintendent of buildings and grounds and transportation was set at $50 a month. Miller uses his own car.

—:—

APPROVAL was given for travel allowance for teachers in the Vocational Education Program. It was explained they had to travel to and from employers of the students to check with the employer and also to offer supervision while the student is on the job. The Ohio Department of Vocational Education reimburses 75 per cent of the expense, Supt Blair said.

James McKinnon was appointed as supervising custodian at the new high school complex.

Supt. Blair reported architect Robert Beatty has asked the board to rescind the change order to Tri - State Asphalt for the surfacing of the parking area at the complex for $10,306 and issue a new change order for $7,466. The reason for the change was that the blacktop did not need to be as thick as first thought, and the cost was not as great. This was approved.

McConville asked that a board member be assigned to each school to check on them regularly, and a report made to the building committee.

Brown appointed McConville for LaCroft and Westgate, Rodfong for East Junior and East Elementary and himself to for the high school and North Elementary. They will report to Blair and Ward who are the building committee.

—:—

MCCONVILLE said he felt the marking of the parking area should be done as soon as possible, and that lines were also needed at LaCroft. Brown appointed Beatty and the building committee to see what could be done.

William Blair then reported that the catch basins at Maine Blvd. and the entrance to the main drive were not sufficient drainage, and that according to the original plans there should have been two more drains installed. He said if the drains were installed they were covered and should be uncovered. If they have not been installed, he said he felt Beatty should have them installed before cold weather and ice creats a hazardous situation.

The board approved intra-murals at East Junior under the supervison of Mrs. Gyla Nicely as long as the administrators agreed that they did not interfere with other programs already set up. There was an extended discussion before this was aporoved, with the board was split on the issue — Ward and McConville voting no, and Blair, Rodfong and Brown voting yes.

Ward said he felt the board had been remiss in not thanking "the one person responsible for the good program Sunday." He said this should have been done Sunday before the group, but had been overlooked. They then passed a resolution thanking Supt. Blair "for his work in making the dedication and open house a success."

Britain Reports Improvement In Its Trade Deficit

LONDON (AP) — British exports jumped to a record peak last month and imports declined giving a dramatic improvement in the nations foreign trade deficit.

The Board of Trade announced that the visible trade deficit fell to 30 million pounds, or $72 million, in August, 51 million pounds less than in July.

Exports were 537 million pounds—$1,288 8 million, an increase of 27 million pounds over July. Re-exports were unchanged at 19 million pounds ($45.6 million).

Imports fell by 13 million pounds ($31.2 million) to 652 million pounds ($1,564.8 million).

This left a "crude gap" between exports plus re-exports and imports of 96 million pounds, but inclusion of banking, shipping and other "invisible" earnings abroad brought the visible deficit down to 30 million pounds, the lowest monthly loss this year.

Drilling Plan Gets Sanction

Council enacted legislation Monday night authorizing the administration to sign leases for oil and gas drilling on the city's landfill sanitary dump along the Y. & O. Rd. in Madison Township.

The ordinance authorizes Mayor George E. Willshaw and Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey to advertise for bids and sign the lease with the firm offering the best terms.

John Galey of Pittsburgh, identifying himself as an oil and gas developer, told Council at its meeting Sept. 3 he was interested in a lease on the 150-acre tract. He said he would offer the standard terms — one eighth of all oil produced.

Galey told Council he holds a similar lease on an adjoining 380-acre tract, where he intends to sink a well 7,000 to 8,000 feet. He said he does not intend to drill on the city's property, but sought the lease only as a safeguard against interlopers in case his venture is successful.

In the event he drills on the city's land, he would agree to operate at a spot designated by the city and not interfere with the dump operations, he said.

Council pointed out that in any case of leasing public property, the subdivision must call for sealed bids and sign a contract on the basis of the best offer.

Crucible Wants Additional Water

A request for an increase in the water supply for the Midland Division of the Crucible Steel Corp. was presented the Midland Municipal Authority Monday.

Crucible asked that 4,200,000 gallons of water a day be supplied by 1970. The Midland plant now produces four million gallons a day at full capacity to serve both plant and borough needs.

If met, the request will mean the filtration plant will have to be expanded. A study of the cost will be made and action on the request is expected at the next meeting Oct. 21.

Plans were made for a public luncheon card party Oct. 16 from 1:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the post. Proceeds will be used for organization projects.

A special meeting will be held Sept. 24 when the nominating committee will report.

Plans for the gum machines project will be discussed.

Drilling Plan Gets Sanction

Council enacted legislation Monday night authorizing the administration to sign leases for oil and gas drilling on the city's landfill sanitary dump along the Y. & O. Rd. in Madison Township.

The ordinance authorizes Mayor George E. Willshaw and Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey to advertise for bids and sign the lease with the firm offering the best terms.

John Galey of Pittsburgh, identifying himself as an oil and gas developer, told Council at its meeting Sept. 3 he was interested in a lease on the 150-acre tract. He said he would offer the standard terms — one eighth of all oil produced.

Galey told Council he holds a similar lease on an adjoining 380-acre tract, where he intends to sink a well 7,000 to 8,000 feet. He said he does not intend to drill on the city's property, but sought the lease only as a safeguard against interlopers in case his venture is successful.

In the event he drills on the city's land, he would agree to operate at a spot designated by the city and not interfere with the dump operations, he said.

Council pointed out that in any case of leasing public property, the subdivision must call for sealed bids and sign a contract on the basis of the best offer.

Crucible Wants Additional Water

A request for an increase in the water supply for the Midland Division of the Crucible Steel Corp. was presented the Midland Municipal Authority Monday.

If met, the request will mean the filtration plant will have to be expanded. A study of the cost will be made and action on the request is expected at the next meeting Oct. 21.

Connie Lou Talkington, Gregory A. Claypool Wed

A neighbor romance culminated in marriage for Miss Connie Lou Talkington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie E. Talkington of 930 Montgomery Ave., when she became the bride of Gregory A. Claypool, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Claypool of 935 Montgomery Ave., Sept. 7 at 3:30 p.m. in the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. H. Gene Toot officiated for the double - ring ceremony before an altar decorated with large tea leaf plants and a background of a large 15 branch candelabra, decorated with fugi mums, bronze and yellow pompons.

Mrs. John Hales presented a half - hour recital of organ music and Thomas Schneidmiller sang two solos.

—:—

THE BRIDE was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents. She was attired in a floor-length gown of white polished linen which flared slightly at the hemline. Swiss embroidered Venise lace bordered the Kabkie sleeves and neckline, with a double row accenting the hemline. The same lace edged the watteau train which fell from the shoulders to a diamond cut backline.

Her three - tier fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a headpiece of Venise lace outlined in seed pearls. She carried a cascade of gardenias, stephanotis and laurel foliage tied with velvet loops.

Diamond earrings, a gift of the bridegroom, were her only jewelry. In observing the traditions, she borrowed a heirloom handkerchief belonging to Mrs. John Gauron. She wore a blue garter and a sixpence in her shoe.

An apricot - colored floor-length gown of Saki fabric trimmed in a delicate front satin bow under an empire waist was worn by Miss Eileen Anne Dehouske of Cleveland, maid of honor. Tailored satin buttons highlighted the full-length train. Her silk illusion veil was attached to petals with intricate swirls of pearl sprays.

She carried a cascade of yellow fugi mums and laurel tied with rust - colored velvet loops.

—:—

BRIDESMAIDS were Miss Nancy Gauron of East Liverpool and Miss Janice Aschew of Cleveland. They were attired in mint green gowns and headpieces and carried flowers identical to the gown worn by the maid of honor.

The bride's mother wore a sheath dress and jacket ensemble of candlelight tree bark with green accessories and carried a purse corsage of orange zelia roses with laurel greens, complementing her attire.

The bridegroom's mother was attired in a beige chiffon satin trim tunic styled dress with turquoise satin accessories and carried a purse corsage of white roses and laurel greens.

Mrs. David Henry of Wellsburg, W. Va., grandmother of the bridegroom, was among those attending the ceremony.

William McSwegin of East Liverpool, a divinity student at Yale, served as best man. Ushers were Gary Farinacci of Chardon, Ohio, a senior at Kent State University, and Thomas Gaudio of Wellsburg, a cousin of the bridegroom, who is a freshman at Marshall University.

—:—

THE COUPLE lighted a memory candle presented by the bridegroom's parents and received guests at a reception for 150 at Hilbert Hall, which was decorated with large wedding bells and white doves holding double wedding rings.

The guests were seated at individual tables, covered with cloths in various shades of apricot and green and centered with milk glass vases and holding a yellow carnation.

The buffet table, overlaid with a white ruffled net cloth and draped at intervals with yellow fugi mums, was centered with a four - tier cake placed on separators incircled with white and yellow mums and topped with love birds and wedding bells and flanked by white tapers in silver candelabra.

The couple cut the wedding cake with an engraved silver knife, a gift of the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. David Henry. Mrs. Ted Williams of Wellsburg presided at the silver and crystal punch bowl and Miss Marianne Balbo of Cleveland at the silver coffee service. Mrs. Thomas Flynn of Cleveland registered guests.

Following a honeymoon at the Emeral Shores Motel, Myrtle Beach, S. C., the couple will reside at 25 North Highland Dr., Akron. For traveling, the bride wore a beige dress with beige and brown accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

Following the ceremony, both parents of the principals entertained with open house at their respective homes.

The bride was feted with a pre - nuptial shower by her associates at Cleveland Metropolitan Hospital at the home of Mrs. Thomas Flynn.

Personalities In The News

NEW YORK (AP) — Yves Saint Laurent, whose haute couture creations cost around $3,000 each, is readying his first ready-to-wear boutique, it was announced Monday.

Prices will range from $75 for a knit dress to about $250 for a gown or pants outfit. The shop opens Thursday in New York.

Saint Laurent said he will continue to design for his high-fashion, and high price, clients. But he also will personally design each item in his Rive Gauche, or ready-to-wear, collection.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Their divorce is still pending, but blonde actress Carroll Baker and her director husband Jack Garfein have agreed to share custody of their two children.

The custody agreement, arranged in court Monday, provides that Miss Baker retain physical custody of Blanche Joy, 11, and Hershel David, 10. But there are stipulations: She can't put them in boarding school without Garfein's permission, and she must give them Hebrew religious instruction. The children also must be taken to court when the divorce reaches trial.

The sultry 37-year-old star of "Harlow" and "Baby Doll" was sued for divorce by Garfein, 38, last Aug. 14. He sought custody of the children. The couple married in New York City on April 5, 1955.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Ralph Smith and his wife have begun a five-year vacation trip to cure their wanderlust.

"We want to see the things we've always heard about since we were children. And by God we're going to see them while we're young enough to participate," he said Monday before leaving with his wife, dog, car and 2½-ton trailer.

Metropolitan Opera Opens 84th Season

NEW YORK (AP) — The Metropolitan Opera opened its 84th season Monday night with an old-fashioned--you could add mildewed—opera, and memories of an old rivalry between prima donnas.

Renata Tebaldi sang the title role in Francesco Cilea's "Adriana Lecouvreur." It's an opera hopelessly complicated and intrigue-filled, with broad romantic melodies like Viennese operetta songs, not very exciting and not very musical in between.

The four principal singers all sang in the opera the last time it was done at the Met, six seasons ago. Franco Corelli looked dashing and ringingly sang the part Enrico Caruso sang the first time the Met did "Adriana Lecouvreur," on opening night in 1907.

Irene Dalis and Anselmo Colzani both sang well and made laudable attempts to act.

Maria Callas attended the performance—her first time inside the Met at Lincoln Center —bringing back memories of her long, celebrated "feud" with Tebaldi. Once, the battle lines were drawn and every opera lover was passionately convinced that either Callas or Tebaldi was the greatest soprano. Echoes of those by-gone days were heard just before the curtain went up, when shouts of "Brava Maria" reverberated against shouts of "Brava Renata."

But Callas' voice was nearly gone the last time she sang at the Met, in 1964, and Tebaldi, though singing better than she did the last time she did "Adriana Lecouvreur" here, does not have the voice she once had.

The audience rather went along with the "return to the past" tone of the evening, being conservatively dressed. Fewer bare shoulders were seen than usual, though the evening was balmy; fewer chandelier earrings and fewer flamboyant experiments in costume were noted, in favor of more traditional evening garb.

Connie Lou Talkington, Gregory A. Claypool Wed

A neighbor romance culminated in marriage for Miss Connie Lou Talkington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie E. Talkington of 930 Montgomery Ave., when she became the bride of Gregory A. Claypool, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Claypool of 935 Montgomery Ave., Sept. 7 at 3:30 p.m. in the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. John Hales presented a half - hour recital of organ music and Thomas Schneidmiller sang two solos.

—:—

THE BRIDE was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents. She was attired in a floor-length gown of white polished linen which flared slightly at the hemline. Swiss embroidered Venise lace bordered the Kabkie sleeves and neckline, with a double row accenting the hemline. The same lace edged the watteau train which fell from the shoulders to a diamond cut backline.

Her three - tier fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a headpiece of Venise lace outlined in seed pearls. She carried a cascade of gardenias, stephanotis and laurel foliage tied with velvet loops.

Diamond earrings, a gift of the bridegroom, were her only jewelry. In observing the traditions, she borrowed a heirloom handkerchief belonging to Mrs. John Gauron. She wore a blue garter and a sixpence in her shoe.

An apricot - colored floor-length gown of Saki fabric trimmed in a delicate front satin bow under an empire waist was worn by Miss Eileen Anne Dehouske of Cleveland, maid of honor. LOS ANGELES (AP) — Their divorce is still pending, but blonde actress Carroll Baker and her director husband Jack Garfein have agreed to share custody of their two children.

The custody agreement, arranged in court Monday, provides that Miss Baker retain physical custody of Blanche Joy, 11, and Hershel David, 10. But there are stipulations: She can't put them in boarding school without Garfein's permission, and she must give them Hebrew religious instruction. The children also must be taken to court when the divorce reaches trial.

The sultry 37-year-old star of "Harlow" and "Baby Doll" was sued for divorce by Garfein, 38, last Aug. 14. He sought custody of the children. The couple married in New York City on April 5, 1955.

Metropolitan Opera Opens 84th Season

NEW YORK (AP) — The Metropolitan Opera opened its 84th season Monday night with an old-fashioned—you could add mildewed—opera, and memories of an old rivalry between prima donnas.

Renata Tebaldi sang the title role in Francesco Cilea's "Adriana Lecouvreur." It's an opera hopelessly complicated and intrigue-filled, with broad romantic melodies like Viennese operetta songs, not very exciting and not very musical in between.

The four principal singers all sang in the opera the last time it was done at the Met, six seasons ago. Franco Corelli looked dashing and ringingly sang the part Enrico Caruso sang the first time the Met did "Adriana Lecouvreur," on opening night in 1907.

Irene Dalis and Anselmo Colzani both sang well and made laudable attempts to act.

Maria Callas attended the performance—her first time inside the Met at Lincoln Center—bringing back memories of her long, celebrated "feud" with Tebaldi. Once, the battle lines were drawn and every opera lover was passionately convinced that either Callas or Tebaldi was the greatest soprano. Echoes of those by-gone days were heard just before the curtain went up, when shouts of "Brava Maria" reverberated against shouts of "Brava Renata."

But Callas' voice was nearly gone the last time she sang at the Met, in 1964, and Tebaldi, though singing better than she did the last time she did "Adriana Lecouvreur" here, does not have the voice she once had.

The audience rather went along with the "return to the past" tone of the evening, being conservatively dressed. Fewer bare shoulders were seen than usual, though the evening was balmy; fewer chandelier earrings and fewer flamboyant experiments in costume were noted, in favor of more traditional evening garb.

BLOOMGREN reported on an investigation of the need for sidewalks for youngsters walking to the school complex. He suggested that they use Laura Ave. to Bank St. and then walk north over the school - owned property to the buildings.

There are existing walks along the proposed route except on the school property and the required walks could be installed by the Board of Education, he said. The proposed route is more direct for most youngsters, rather than requiring them to walk east as far as Maine Blvd. and then north to the schools, he said.

Bloomgren also reported on a meeting last Wednesday between city and county officials to study again a proposed widening of Shadyside Ave., plus installation of sidewalks.

Council took no final action on a request from Miss Nell Robinson, City Hospital administrator, asking designation of West Alley as one-way south only, between W. 6th St. and W. 5th St. She said the change would make "for better traffic control to and from the hospital driveways and grounds." West Alley runs alongside the east end of the hospital. It is used as an access by ambulances taking patients to the emergency room.

Council received a letter from the State Liquor Control Commission advising that Dallis Enterprises, operator of the Washington Restaurant at 115 E. 6th St., has applied for a D-3A permit, allowing sales of beverages until 2:30 a.m. The notice was referred to Councilman James Lowe of the Third Ward, as the tavern lies in his ward. Law gives Council the right to file official objections to such an application.

Planning Coordinator Don Eckert read Council a resolution enacted Sept. 9 by Chester Council calling upon the states of Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania to improve the area highway network and start plans for a new bridge linking East Liverpool and Chester. The resolution asked neighboring communities to enact similar requests.

The resolution asked that Route 30 be made a four-lane highway from Imperial, Pa., to Chester, with a bypass to Newell and a connection with the bridge; that the new bridge be erected; that East Liverpool extend its Freeway east to the Pennsylvania line and that Pennsylvania carry the four - lane road east to link up with the Shippingport and Vanport Bridges.

Council enacted a resolution authorizing the Board of Public Utilities to call for bids and sign a new 10-year contract for furnishing electrical power for operation of the sewage treatment plant. Although the Ohio Power Co. is the only concern which could bid, Ohio law requires sealed offers must be sought.

Councilman John Wilson asked the Health Department to continue its investigation of "the terrible stench rising from the River Rd." toward residential districts on Thompson Hill.

Councilman Frank Duffy asked the street department to use its mechanical sweeper on Virginia Ave.

The meeting opened with invocation by Councilman Robert W. Sample. Council President Nunzio Lombardozzi of Wellsville attended the session.

Driver Hospitalized

A Warren man was admitted to City Hospital with injuries suffered in a one-car accident on Route 7 Monday night.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Steven Sleyzak, 41, of Warren was driving his 1957 coach north on Route 7 about 2 miles north of Route 30 at 8:25 when he failed to negotiate a curve and his auto went off the right side of the road into a ditch.

Sleyzak, who received spine injuries, was listed "fairly good" this morning.

Miller, and they were satisfied the mile was where it has been set. He asked Mrs. Puckett if this answered her question.

"It answers my question," Mrs. Puckett said, "But it does not satisfy me."

Mrs. Erma McGraw of Mulberry St. said, "It is not safe for little girls to walk to school. They may be molested. If something happens it will be the lack of foresight of the board of education and the parents who caused it."

"Last year at East Junior, one girl jumped on another, and the case was up before Judge Tobin. We have the Fellowship Tabernacle on Mulberry St.," she said, "and there is vandalism."

Board member George Ward asked, "Would they be safe at the bus stops then?"

"When we lived on Virginia Ave., one of the children came home crying. She had been beat up. When a group of children doesn't like you, they can hurt you."

William Blair, board member, asked, "Have you gone to a city Council meeting about this?" she answered, "No."

Blair said, "I feel city Council would like to have this called to their attention."

—:—

AFTER SOME discussion between different people at the meeting, Mrs. McGraw continued," "Safety means more than education. If they come in with bashed heads and end up retarded or something, what good is education? I would like for them to walk," she continued, "walking is good for anybody, but it is not safe."

The women said the police would do nothing, and that when they were called sometimes they came and sometimes they did not, and that from Mulberry St. to East Junior and East Elementary was just not safe for children, especially girls to walk.

John Muschweck Jr. of Simmons Ave. spoke of the bus situation in the Westfield area. He and Roy Bratt of Lisbon St. were spokesmen for their group.

Muschweck has insisted he lives more than a mile from the new LaCroft School, and that his children should be permitted to ride the bus. Other residents of the area also feel that their children should be transported.

Samuel Brown, board president, last week walked the route the Muschweck children would walk, and using a measuring meter of the power company, traveled a distance of 5,320 feet from Muschweck's drive to the area where the bus unloads the children for school. The matter was referred to Clarence O'Hanlon, who is in charge of transportation, and Muschweck's children are to be given transportation.

OTHERS OF the area, though, reside within the mile limit. Roy Bratt and Muschweck debated with the board the need for these other students to walk. Muschweck said to Brown, "You walked the road with Mr. Bratt and Mr. Kelly of the LaCroft area—you will agree with me on the mileage we got on it?"

Brown replied, "You live on Simmons St. and your house faces on Lynn St. I have two cars and I measured a certain distance with them, and other cars measured different distances. Mr. Digman and other township officials and myself walked from the road to where the bus stops to let the kids off for school." Brown continued, "We used a wheel from the Ohio Power Co, which I feel is more accurate and walked 5,320 feet. Anybody who lives from where I started would be eligible by state law for transportation."

Brown added, "A portion is not hazardous, but there are certainly portions that are hazardous. However, I do not make the regulations — the state does. I say it is 5,320 feet and is hazardous."

Muschweck asked, "Is there any bus that is not filled up—is there a way we can get them on the bus?"

Ward interjected there are other considerations.

Brown answered, "I don't feel that I could okay, or that I would ask the board to okay, transporting kids within the one - mile limit. Mr. Pelini would be the one to ask whether or not there is room."

Pelini said, "Mr. Muschweck, I could show you many places that are not safe that the kids walk within a mile. If the state says they will reimburse the board, I would recommend they be hauled."

—:—

BRATT AT this point asked, "Does the state say they can ride or that they cannot ride?"

Brown interrupted at this point and asked, "Mr. Muschweck, do you feel that you got a fair deal as far as the two board members who came out?"

Muschweck asked, "Does that mean my kids will get transportation?

Brown said, "I cannot speak for other board members. I, myself, accept the measuring device."

Bratt said, "Name me any place in the state that a school district will not pick up kids within the mile on a state road. Tom (referring to Rodfong) says he would not let his kids walk down this road. Isn't that right?" Rodfong said, "Yes, sir."

Bratt then said he had five petitions signed. One would be presented to the board of education, one sent to Dr. Martin Essex, one to the state transportation department, one to the National Safety Council, and one to Rep. Wayne L. Hayes.

"We need more buses," Bratt said. "We have a multi-million dollar school system — why kill some of these kids. If these buses run filled to capacity, then get more."

—:—

SUPT. BLAIR asked, "Would you agree for us to ask state officials to investigate, and if they say the road is hazardous and will pay, then we will haul them? We must treat all students of the district alike. Any buses over the present buses we now have would cost the board 100 per cent to operate.

"If the board owns the buses, we cannot charge," he added in answer to a question from someone in the group as to why they could not add on more buses and charge for passes.

Bratt then asked, "Can the board accept donations?", Blair answered, "I think there would be ramifications if donations were accepted for transportation."

William E. Blair then said, "We are all concerned with the safety of these youngsters twelve months of the year. Do they not walk to the stores and on these roads in the summer?" Several in the group insisted their children did not use these roads, particularly referring to Route 267.

Blair continued, "People, we should be checking to find out if something can be done to make these roads safer."

Another resident of the LaCroft area asked why a 40 mile speed limit sign was just 20 feet from the school. "There are no school signs," this woman stated, "only 40 mile per hour signs.

—:—

SUPT. BLAIR said, "We have no control over this situation." We cannot take on the responsibility of patroling the areas before and after school. Even in school zones, signs are there people are breaking the law."

Bratt then interjected, "Two days before school started, there were "school" signs painted on the Y & O Rd. near Annesley Rd., and on the other side of Glenmoor, but there are none at LaCroft."

In answer to a statement that some Glenmoor area students lived within a mile and were transported, Pelini explained they were transferred to another building because of crowded conditions, and the building they were transferred to was more than a mile.

Muschweck then quoted Mr. Zygmont Rataiczak, transportation coordinator as saying kids could stand in the aisles of the bus as long as they were less than two miles from the school.

Pelini said, "You have mentioned this before, and I asked you to get this in writing."

The law allows ten percent over the bus capacity, in other words 72 could be transported on a 66 passenger bus."

William Blair then said, "I am amazed at some of the things that have been presented here this evening." I feel you should contact city Council." It was pointed out the LaCroft area is outside the city limits. Blair said, "But all these things tie in together. I think Council should be aware of them."

A Pleasant Heights resident asked if Mr. Muschweck's children were going to get transportation. "We live on Route 267 also," she said "The mileage has been checked on our two cars as a mile, not on Mr. Miller's."

Another woman spoke up and said if the bus would not pick up the children, there would be no school attendance. "Mothers will keep their children home," she said.

An East End resident then said she knew students in the East End who lived less than a mile from the school who are riding buses. She gave Supt. Blair the names of those she said she knew about.

Bratt then asked for clarification concerning the one or two mile limit. He said he felt that if the terrain was such that the two-mile limit was reduced to one, perhaps this should also be reduced.

The discussions, again several at one time, continued until after 9:30, and then Brown called a halt. He said Supt. Blair would call the State transportation department Tuesday then he would contact Mr. Bratt in the afternoon He suggested the people should keep in touch with Mr. Bratt to get information as to what is being accomplished.

BLOOMGREN reported on an investigation of the need for sidewalks for youngsters walking to the school complex. He suggested that they use Laura Ave. to Bank St. and then walk north over the school - owned property to the buildings.

There are existing walks along the proposed route except on the school property and the required walks could be installed by the Board of Education, he said. The proposed route is more direct for most youngsters, rather than requiring them to walk east as far as Maine Blvd. and then north to the schools, he said.

Bloomgren also reported on a meeting last Wednesday between city and county officials to study again a proposed widening of Shadyside Ave., plus installation of sidewalks.

Council took no final action on a request from Miss Nell Robinson, City Hospital administrator, asking designation of West Alley as one-way south only, between W. 6th St. and W. 5th St. She said the change would make "for better traffic control to and from the hospital driveways and grounds." West Alley runs alongside the east end of the hospital. It is used as an access by ambulances taking patients to the emergency room.

Council received a letter from the State Liquor Control Commission advising that Dallis Enterprises, operator of the Washington Restaurant at 115 E. 6th St., has applied for a D-3A permit, allowing sales of beverages until 2:30 a.m. The notice was referred to Councilman James Lowe of the Third Ward, as the tavern lies in his ward. Law gives Council the right to file official objections to such an application.

Planning Coordinator Don Eckert read Council a resolution enacted Sept. 9 by Chester Council calling upon the states of Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania to improve the area highway network and start plans for a new bridge linking East Liverpool and Chester. The resolution asked neighboring communities to enact similar requests.

The resolution asked that Route 30 be made a four-lane highway from Imperial, Pa., to Chester, with a bypass to Newell and a connection with the bridge; that the new bridge be erected; that East Liverpool extend its Freeway east to the Pennsylvania line and that Pennsylvania carry the four - lane road east to link up with the Shippingport and Vanport Bridges.

Council enacted a resolution authorizing the Board of Public Utilities to call for bids and sign a new 10-year contract for furnishing electrical power for operation of the sewage treatment plant. Although the Ohio Power Co. is the only concern which could bid, Ohio law requires sealed offers must be sought.

Councilman John Wilson asked the Health Department to continue its investigation of "the terrible stench rising from the River Rd." toward residential districts on Thompson Hill.

Councilman Frank Duffy asked the street department to use its mechanical sweeper on Virginia Ave.

The meeting opened with invocation by Councilman Robert W. Sample. Council President Nunzio Lombardozzi of Wellsville attended the session.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Moms Adopt 'Be-Bop!'

DEAR FOLKS: All of us moms are going to have to "get with it." At least that's what my teen-ager tells me . . .

I couldn't understand how teen-agers studied or read with that little transistor radio or TV blaring . . .

Heloise

But I've been told and get many letters from teen-agers which say, "It's the only way to get things done, I can't do without it. . . ."

Believe it or not, they have something . . .

Some day put that teen-ager's tiny transistor in the pocket of your blue jeans, house dress or apron. Then try getting your work done! I did!

The music is always with you. And if you don't like the program you can change it. It's most amazing how it helps. Especially if it's doing that laundry or ironing, working in the garden, or cleaning out closets!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's an attractive, delicious dessert I often prepare for my family.

I make a loaf cake or tea bread and cut it into four horizontal layers.

Then make a filling of instant vanilla pudding and divide it into three equal amounts. I use cake coloring to tint each portion a different color and flavor.

For example, one layer of "lime" custard tinted pale green, one layer of pale yellow "lemon" custard, and one of "orange."

I spread the custards between the cake layers, put the cake together and place it on a serving platter. Refrigerate and serve chilled. Delish!

Letter Of Laughter

DEAR HELOISE: I own one of your pocket edition hints which I keep in the living room bookcase.

This morning I noticed that the washing machine did not get the stains from one of my dresses, so I went to the bookcase for your book.

I bent down on one knee and started to slide the bookcase door with my left hand. It stuck — and so did I. I couldn't get up off the floor.

Believe me, I didn't love you very much by the time I was able to get to my feet!

Now I'm wondering if you have an answer as to why I put such a necessary household item where the elements could resist my ancient body's getting it?

MARY LOU CONLON.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's how I made a pretty hurricane lamp to use as an emergency light:

I took an attractive, odd drinking glass and glued it to the bottom of an old coffee cup turned upside down. Just be sure your cup has a handle on it 'cause this makes the lamp easier to carry.

Then I melted some wax and stuck a candle down in the glass and presto, I had an attractive lamp handy for use if the electricity should go off.

So the glue will match if you use a colored glass, just put a few drops of food coloring in the glue itself.

This little lamp, of course, costs you practically nil, but is pretty enough to leave in any room.

So why sot make more than one? It would not only be useful, but decorative too! They all could be different since they are made from odds and ends.

MRS. W. B. HEATH.

What a darling idea! And who doesn't have an odd glass and cup stashed away in the cupboard wondering what to do with it. These would be real cute on a porch or patio.

You're a doll for writing and sharing this with us. We thank you muchly.

Cincinnati Faces Largest Pay Hike Bid By Employes

CINCINNATI (AP)—The city is faced with the largest raise request ever presented by its employes—$18.7 million yearly in combined salary and benefits increases.

Union representatives of 4,000 city workers — about two-thirds of the total workforce—submitted the plan Monday to City Manager Richard L. Krabach.

It calls for:

—$1 - per - hour increase for each worker.

—Fringe benefits whose worth would amount to approximately $6,000 annually per employe.

Some 4,000 of the city's 6,000 employes are members of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes District 50. Police and firemen belong to separate organizations.

The proposed wage adjustment for 1969, if granted, would cost almost $12.5 million a year. The fringe benefits sought would tack another $6.2 million annually.

Krabach said he plans to refer the matter to the city's personnel department for negotiations.

Third Bomb Threat

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police said Woodward High School has undergone its third bomb threat in two weeks. The latest came Monday when a man telephoned the school that a bomb had been planted—and then hung up quickly. Officers searched the school after each call but found nothing.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Moms Adopt 'Be-Bop!'

DEAR FOLKS: All of us moms are going to have to "get with it." At least that's what my teen-ager tells me . . .

Heloise

I couldn't understand how teen-agers studied or read with that little transistor radio or TV blaring . . .

But I've been told and get many letters from teen-agers which say, "It's the only way to get things done, I can't do without it. . . ."

Believe it or not, they have something . . .

Some day put that teen-ager's tiny transistor in the pocket of your blue jeans, house dress or apron. Then try getting your work done! I did!

The music is always with you. And if you don't like the program you can change it. It's most amazing how it helps. Especially if it's doing that laundry or ironing, working in the garden, or cleaning out closets!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's an attractive, delicious dessert I often prepare for my family.

I make a loaf cake or tea bread and cut it into four horizontal layers.

Then make a filling of instant vanilla pudding and divide it into three equal amounts. I use cake coloring to tint each portion a different color and flavor.

For example, one layer of "lime" custard tinted pale green, one layer of pale yellow "lemon" custard, and one of "orange."

ANN LANDERS

They're Being 'Slobbish'

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Something has been bothering me and it's going to take a woman to answer this question. Will you try?

Why do some females appear in public with their hair rolled up in curlers? Don't they consider themselves on display when they go to the drug store, the bakery, the market, to the park, on the bus or what have you?

More and more I see women running around with metal and plastic junk attached to their heads. It is, in my opinion, an insult to the world at large. Such women are saying, "You are not important to me. I don't care how I look in your presence." Why do they do it? — MINOT, N.D., MALE.

-:-

Dear Minot Male: Disrespect for others stems from a lack of self-respect. Women who appear in public in hair curlers (ditto short shorts, halters, barefoot, etc.) advertise the fact that they consider themselves slobs and feel it is useless to present themselves as ladies.

Credit-Ability Gap

Dear Ann: We're a young couple just starting out. I'm not working at present because we're expecting a baby in December. My husband is in the service.

My problem is that we cannot get credit. No one will give us credit because we have no credit referencess. How can we get credit references when nobody will give us credit? It's a vicious circle and we don't know what to do about it.

We've never gone bad on a debt and we have no bills other than the rent, utilities, telephone — like most other people. We have been turned down by at least 10 different places, including two banks. What do you suggest? — MRS. MERRY-GO-ROUND.

-:-

Dear Merry: Get some character references from three or four people who know you well — a high school principal, a clergyman, the manager of a store where you have been shopping (for cash). If you are new in the city, write to people in your home town. If you and your husband can present some letters from individuals who will vouch for your integrity you should have no trouble getting credit.

It's Confidential

Dear Ann: Last year I got VD from the only boy I ever went with. He was 19 and I was 16. I'd never even heard of VD and didn't know what was wrong with me. My girl friend noticed sores on my face and guessed. She advised me to go to the nearest hospital and ask for treatment right away.

I took her advice and I'm happy to say I'm perfectly okay now. But something is bothering me. I had to give my right name. How secret are those records? Can any nurse or doctor see them? Can student nurses get into those files?

Some girls I know are going into nursing and I live in fear they'll find out about me. Please rush your answer. — WORRIED.

-:-

Dear Worried: The only people who have access to those records are medical people who must refer to them for further treatment, should it be necessary. The chance of one of your friends learning of your past illness is extremely small. Forget it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelopt.

Wallace To Address Party's State Convention In Dallas

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — George C. Wallace, plagued by a naging virus but buoyed by a rousing welcome to Texas, today addresses his third party's state convention whose delegates aim to put 25 electoral votes in his column Nov. 5.

All 92,000 persons who signed petitions to get Wallace's name on the Texas ballot are eligible to attend the convention and state party oficials expect a large crowd.

The convention's main business is to certify Wallace as the American party candidate, a legal requisite, but it also may draft a state platform for Wallace. Wallace said he intends to release his national platform "in a few days."

About 7,000 turned out to welcome Wallace Monday night at a rally that followed a fund-raising barbecue at which 1,500 paid $25 a plate.

The third-party candidate, who says he plans to win the presidency and not play the role of a spoiler, told his enthusiastic supporters, "the way you will waste your vote is by voting for either the Democratic or Republican candidate. A vote for George Wallace is a vote against both."

He said his candidacy had gathered increasing momentum, as evidenced by recent polls, and that his appeal was not sectional but national.

Loitering In Hippie Area Brings Sentence

CINCINNATI (AP) — Russell Johnson, 22, one of four Cincinnati persons arrested over the weekend for loitering in the hippie section along Calhoun Avenue, was found guilty Monday in Hamilton County Criminal Court and sentenced to three days in the workhouse and fined $50.

The other three had their cases suspended. They were Charles Edward Scripps, 18, son of Scripps - Howard Board Chairman Charles W. Scripps; Charles M. Sanders, 20; and Peggy Ann Wiseman.

Council Votes $1,000 For Police Overtime

Council Monday night allocated an additional $1,000 to pay overtime wages to members of the police department.

The action was taken after Auditor Lawrence Zollinger advised Council the overtime fund was overdrawn approximately $400 and no additional money could be disbursed until the appropriation was replenished.

Council also approved a motion by Councilman Floyd Murray, finance committee chairman, to send a letter to all city department heads advising them that no more overtime pay could be authorized in the balance of 1968 "except in emergency."

Tigers Halt Yankee Streak, Clinch Tie For AL Pennant

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Norm Cash gave the Detroit Tigers a quick scent of the quarry they've been tracking for 23 long years. Baltimore's Don Buford postponed the Big Kill . . . but the Tigers can afford to wait another 24 short hours.

Cash smacked a two-run single in the first inning and a three-run homer in the second as the Tigers mauled New York 9-1 Monday night, assuring themselves of no worse than a tie for the American League pennant . . . which hasn't flown in Detroit since 1945.

Buford's grand slam homer and bases-empty blasts by Brooks Robinson and Boog Powell powered the second place Orioles past Boston 8-1 and kept them mathematically alive . . . but fading fast.

Rookie Rick Renick drilled a ninth-inning homer, giving Minnesota a 4-3 victory over California in the only other game on the AL schedule.

"I'm not sending Mayo any congratulations yet," said Baltimore skipper Earl Weaver after his club skirted elimination in its desperate pursuit of Mayo Smith's runaway Tigers. "That's the way you play this game.

"We haven't given up hoping for a tie with them. We also have to think about holding on to second."

The Orioles, 10½ games off the pace, must win their remaining 10 starts while the Tigers lose their last 11 to force a pennant playoff. Detroit entertains New York and the Orioles are at Boston again tonight.

Weaver aparently has one eye on the oncoming Yankees, who moved into third place with a 10-game winning streak before running into a buzz-saw at Detroit.

Cash's single keyed a four-run opening burst against New York starter Joe Verbanic and the Tigers rocked reliever Steve Barber for five more runs in the second, with Cash's 22nd homer the big blow.

The early onslaught helped southpaw John Hiller, 9-5, breeze past the Yanks and extend Detroit's winning string to seven games. Hiller scattered eight hits and struck out seven in hurling the 10th straight complete game for the Tigers' staff.

Brooks Robinson pulled the Orioles even at Boston with a second inning homer and started the decisive fourth inning flurry with a single off loser Jim Lonborg. Elrod Hendricks' single, a walk and pitcher Tom Phoebus' infield hit broke the 1-1 tie before Buford unloded into the right field bullpen for the second grand slam of his career.

Powell's leadoff homer and doubles by Robinson and Mark Belanger gave Phoebus two more runs in the fifth and he brought his season mark to 15-14 with ninth inning help from Eddie Watt.

Renick's third major league homer, a leadoff shot off Sammy Ellis in the ninth, capped Minnesota's late comeback against the Angels.

Two errors by Jackie Hernandez in the fourth helped the Angels push over three unearned runs, but the Twins rallied for three in the eighth on two walks, Cesar Tovar's double, a wild pitch and Rod Carew's triple.

In this year of anemia in American League batting averages, one man stands out.

He is Gates Brown of the Tigers, swatting .377 at last look. Brown is not a regular, being using mostly as a pinch-hitter, a role in which he is hitting well over .400, so he will not win the batting title. The Tigers will be in the World Series, however, a phenomenon Brown finds more satisfying than a high batting average.

Brown is one of the few people to fake out the Official Baseball Guide in regard to his name. He is listed as W. Gates Brown, but Gates is not his real name. His full name is William James Brown, and Gates is the nickname he picked up when he was an escapee from the Mansfield Reformatory. While not proud of his background, Brown makes no effort to hide it, and gives numerous talks to youth groups in the Dertoit ghettoes urging them to stay on the right side of the law now, but opposing American League pitchers probably wish he was back behind those reformatory gates.

BEAVER LOCAL'S Denny Klembara got off to a good start as quarterback at Youngstown U. as the Penguins downed Gustavus-Adolphus 18-14 in their opener at St. Paul, Minn., Saturday. Klembara connected on a 12-yard TD pass to open the scoring and later connected on a 40-yarder to set up the second TD.

EAST LIVERPOOL'S Larry Bruno, coach of the Beaver Falls Tigers, has seen his team get off to a rocky start this season, losing to Class A Beaver 14-7 and being tied 7-7 by Sharon, but Bruno has had his share of success over the years.

In 19 years as a head coach at Monaca and Beaver Falls prior to this year, Bruno compiled a 111-60-9 mark, with only five losing seasons. This summer, in addition to assisting Lindy Lauro with the West All-Stars in the Big 33 football game at Hershey, Bruno ran a frozen custard stand, and became known as the Custard King.

Southern, Rose Lead Area Scoring

Surprising Southern Local is leading area teams in scoring with 54 points a game over the first two games.

The Indians are one of five unbeaten teams. Midland is tops defensively, having held two opponents scoreless. East Liverpool, at 44 points a game, and Leetonia, at 43 points a game, are generating offenses that would lead normally, but Southern Local for the moment is out of sight.

The Indians also have the top individual scorer in Rich Rose, who has tallied 60 points in the first two games, more than any area team except the Potters and the Bears. He has twice as many points as his closest pursuer, Ken DiCross of Leetonia.

Ed Casey of Leetonia has thrown the most TD passes, six, but Ralph Nedelkoff and Ed Buckel of Southern each have four TD heaves, so Southern as a team leads in that department also.

CHRISTIAN MUSURACA

Johnson, Ice Honored As Outstanding

Four lettermen again won player of the week awards at East Liverpool High after the coaching staff reviewed the films of Friday's 52-0 win over Youngstown Woodrow Wilson.

The only repeater was offensive lineman Jerry Christian, who once again blocked well while playing tight and split end. Jim Musuraca, named as defensive back last week, was named as the top offensive back this week for running and blocking.

John Johnson, who intercepted a pass, was named defensive back of the week and Stanley Ice was named defensive lineman of the week for excellent tackling and pursuit.

The staff noted that all the offensive backs, including the reserves, ran well, that Lou Volino did an excellent job of offensive blocking from his guard spot and that Floyd Cranston, playing middle guard, recovered two fumbles.

The St. Louis Cardinals may be building a National League dynasty but it looks more like a dictatorship.

Not content with having run away with their second straight pennant, the Cards are about to have their say in determining the rest of the standings, as well.

They move into San Francisco tonight for a three-game series with the runner-up Giants, who lead third-place Cincinnati by two games after Monday's 8-4 victory over the Reds. Chicago is 3½ games behind the Giants and Atlanta is five back.

Then it's on to Los Angeles for three with the Dodgers, who are battling Houston and New York for eighth place. After that it's back home for two games with seventh-place Philadelphia, which is trying to catch Pittsburgh, and three with Houston.

In Monday night action, Los Angeles tripped Atlanta 6-0 and Pittsburgh trounced Philadelphia 6-1. St. Louis, Chicago, Houston and New York were not scheduled.

"The way it's planned, the pitchers will go in their regular rotation for the remaining 11 games—Bob Gibson, Ray Washburn, Nelson Briles and Steve Carlton," Red Schoendienst, manager of the Cardinals, said Monday night.

That means Gibson will work every fifth day, which will bring him right up to Oct. 2 and the much-awaited confrontation with Detroit's Denny McLain in the World Series opener.

"I'll leave it up to Gibson if he wants to sit out one start," Schoendienst added, "and I may pitch all the relievers in the last game. I'll also get some of the regulars out for a few days. But the last four games I'll play them all."

Willie McCovey drove in four runs in San Francisco's victory over Cincinnati, which prevented the Reds from moving into a virtual tie for second place.

McCovey's two-run double highlighted a five-run rally in the seventh inning that gave rookie reliever Rich Robertson his first major league victory.

The slim crowd of 2,361, smallest in the Giants' San Francisco history, saw Willie Mays engage in a verbal altercation with two Air Force sergeants in the stands.

Mays had just made a running catch and was approaching the dugout in the middle of the fourth inning when he went after the two men. He was intercepted by Bobby Bonds and Manager Herman Franks and the sergeants were ejected from the park.

"All I said was, 'Nice catch; for a $100,000 bum you're earning your money'," explained S-Sgt. Jay Easy of the Alameda Air Station.

Bill Singer scattered nine hits and his two-run double capped a five-run uprising in the sixth inning that broke a scoreless tie with Atlanta as the Dodgers won for the 10th time in 13 games. Jim Lefebvre singled in the first run, Len Gabrielson doubled home the second and the third scored on an error by Felix Millan.

Rookie Dock Ellis hurled a three-hitter for his first complete game and Donn Clendenon and Bill Mazeroski drove in two runs apiece as Pittsburgh whipped Philadelphia.

Singles by Gene Alley, Matty Alou, Roberto Clemente and Clendenon accounted for two runs in the first inning. Clendenon whacked his 16th homer in the fourth, Mary Wills singled a run across in the sixth and Mazeroski drilled a bases-loaded single for the final two in the ninth.

Gary Collins, Green Ready For Cowboys

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Flanker Gary Collins should be ready for action Sunday when The Cleveland Browns visit Dallas.

Also, running back Ernie Green may be set to go against the Cowboys, who blasted Detroit last Sunday 59-13.

Collins hurt his elbow in the victory over New Orleans, but team physician Dr. Vic Ippolito said, "Collins has no fracture. It's a deep bruise but he is dramatically improved and should be ready to play."

Linebacker Bob Matheson and defensive back Ben Davis, also jarred in the New Orleans game, are expected to play against Dallas.

Green suffered a knee injury during the opening exhibition game in Los Angeles.

In 1956 Ohio State attempted only 50 passes while rushing 524 times.

POST PATTERN. Jackie Smith (81) of the Cardinals has to watch out for the goal post and can't grab a Jim Hart pass that falls by him. The ball was deflected by Ron Smith (41) or Myron Pottios (60) of the LA Rams, who won 24-13 in St. Louis last night. (UPI Telephoto)

Smith, Meador Lead Rams Victory

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ron Smith came to the Los Angeles Rams about the same way he went through the St. Louis Cardinals' defense—long and roundabout.

Both trips paid off handsomely as Smith's 94-yard kickoff return sparked them to a 24-13 victory over the Cardinals Monday night in a National Football League game.

The Rams' head coach George Allen, sipped milk and outlined Smith's journey to the club.

"We actually got him for big Ben Wilson," Allen explained. "You remember big Ben? We traded Wilson to Vince Lombardi (Green Bay Parker general manager) and he gave me a second round draft choice. We turned around and gave that to Atlanta for Smith, who is a proven ball player. I remembered him because I signed him for the (Chicago) Bears in 1965 before he went to Atlanta."

So the fourth-year man from Wisconsin repaid Allen with the touchdown run to open the second half and pushed the Rams into a 17-3 lead.

"Any time I get the ball," the freckle-faced Smith said, "I know I can go all the way. It was a squib kick and I knew I would have to do a lot of maneuvering. I don't think I was even touched. They told me on the bench I stiff-armed (Jim) Bakken and he blocked out another guy."

"I thought the turning point was the kickoff return," Allen was saying. "That was the big play because the score was 10-3 at the time."

Free safety Ed Meador earlier supplied a couple of other turning points as he intercepted two Jim Hart passes. One set up the Ram's first touchdown and the second killed a Cardinal scoring drive.

Purdue 1, OSU 9, PSU 10 In First College Grid Poll

By The Associated Press

Houston and Georgia cracked into the rankings as a weekend of only limited warfare produced a thorough shakeup in The Associated Press' major college football poll.

The top three—Purdue, Southern California and Notre Dame—were about the only teams to escape the madcap shuffle from the preseason rankings.

Purdue attracted 14 of the 30 first-place votes and 584 points, while Southern Cal had eight and 536 and Notre Dame two and 488.

Houston, unmentioned in the preseason poll, leaped all the way to 11th after humiliating Tulane 54-7, and Georgia took over the No. 18 spot after a 17-17 tie with Tennessee that dropped the Vols from ninth to 12th.

Nebraska, only other ranked team in action over the weekend, remained 14th after a 15-10 last - minute victory over Wyoming.

Texas moved up a spot to fourth, trading place with Oklahoma, while Florida climbed a notch to sixth and Alabama moved from 11th to ninth and Penn State fell two spots to 10th to round out the top 10.

Texas A&M slipped from 12th to 13th, Indiana from 13th to 15th, Minnesota from 15th into a tie with UCLA for 16th, Miami jumped from 20th to 19th and Louisiana State, dropped from 18th to 20th.

Arizona State, 17th in the preseason poll, and Syracuse, 19th, vanished from the ratings although neither has played a game yet.

The top 20 undoubtedly will undergo another shakeup next week, since three games this weekend match rated teams.

Oklahoma opens at Notre Dame, while Minnesota is at Southern California and Houston tests Texas.

Purdue has drawn a soft touch in its opener, Virginia, but the following weekend the Boilermakers face Notre Dame.

The top 20, with first-place votes and total points (points awarded for first 15 picks on basis of 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1):

Weirton asked that the game be rescheduled because there were too many players on the squad out with the flu.

Wooten Plays Well In Redskin Opener

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Wooten, a pro for nine years, felt the pressure just like a rookie in his season debut, starting his footbll career anew after being cut by Cleveland in a racial controversy.

"I've never wanted to win so badly as this year," said Wooten, the new guard for the Washington Redskins.

"I definitely felt the pressure," he said today. "There's nothing like coming out of the opener a winner."

Wooten threw a goal line block that cut down two potential tacklers to cap a 12-yard touchdown run by Gerry Allen and played a key role in Washington's superb pass protection as the Redskins upended the Chicago Bears Sunday 38-28 for their first opening day victory in 10 years.

The agile 250-pound lineman, a former Pro Bowl player, was released by Cleveland in a dispute over a preseason golf tourney arranged by defenseive back Ross Fichtner. No Negro players were invited. Wooten, a Negro community leader in Cleveland, protested.

The Browns turned loose both Wooten and Fichtner. Wooten said, "the Redskins were the first team I contacted. The whole thought behind it was they had a chance to go somewhere.

"I went into Sunday's game with more pressure than I normally would," he said. "I'm still in the process of learning the Washington system. There were times in the huddle I was checking and rechecking assignments."

Coach Otto Graham praised Wooten's performance and said, "He's a very fine football player."

The St. Louis Cardinals may be building a National League dynasty but it looks more like a dictatorship.

Not content with having run away with their second straight pennant, the Cards are about to have their say in determining the rest of the standings, as well.

Jim Lefebvre singled in the first run, Len Gabrielson doubled home the second and the third scored on an error by Felix Millan.

Rookie Dock Ellis hurled a three-hitter for his first complete game and Donn Clendenon and Bill Mazeroski drove in two runs apiece as Pittsburgh whipped Philadelphia.

Singles by Gene Alley, Matty Alou, Roberto Clemente and Clendenon accounted for two runs in the first inning. Clendenon whacked his 16th homer in the fourth, Mary Wills singled a run across in the sixth and Mazeroski drilled a bases-loaded single for the final two in the ninth.

Gary Collins, Green Ready For Cowboys

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Flanker Gary Collins should be ready for action Sunday when The Cleveland Browns visit Dallas.

Also, running back Ernie Green may be set to go against the Cowboys, who blasted Detroit last Sunday 59-13.

Collins hurt his elbow in the victory over New Orleans, but team physician Dr. Vic Ippolito said, "Collins has no fracture. It's a deep bruise but he is dramatically improved and should be ready to play."

Linebacker Bob Matheson and defensive back Ben Davis, also jarred in the New Orleans game, are expected to play against Dallas.

Green suffered a knee injury during the opening exhibition game in Los Angeles.

In 1956 Ohio State attempted only 50 passes while rushing 524 times.

Smith, Meador Lead Rams Victory

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ron Smith came to the Los Angeles Rams about the same way he went through the St. Louis Cardinals' defense—long and roundabout.

Both trips paid off handsomely as Smith's 94-yard kickoff return sparked them to a 24-13 victory over the Cardinals Monday night in a National Football League game.

The Rams' head coach George Allen, sipped milk and outlined Smith's journey to the club.

"We actually got him for big Ben Wilson," Allen explained. "You remember big Ben? We traded Wilson to Vince Lombardi (Green Bay Parker general manager) and he gave me a second round draft choice. We turned around and gave that to Atlanta for Smith, who is a proven ball player. I remembered him because I signed him for the (Chicago) Bears in 1965 before he went to Atlanta."

So the fourth-year man from Wisconsin repaid Allen with the touchdown run to open the second half and pushed the Rams into a 17-3 lead.

"Any time I get the ball," the freckle-faced Smith said, "I know I can go all the way. It was a squib kick and I knew I would have to do a lot of maneuvering. I don't think I was even touched. They told me on the bench I stiff-armed (Jim) Bakken and he blocked out another guy."

"I thought the turning point was the kickoff return," Allen was saying. "That was the big play because the score was 10-3 at the time."

Free safety Ed Meador earlier supplied a couple of other turning points as he intercepted two Jim Hart passes. One set up the Ram's first touchdown and the second killed a Cardinal scoring drive.

Purdue 1, OSU 9, PSU 10 In First College Grid Poll

By The Associated Press

Houston and Georgia cracked into the rankings as a weekend of only limited warfare produced a thorough shakeup in The Associated Press' major college football poll.

The top three—Purdue, Southern California and Notre Dame—were about the only teams to escape the madcap shuffle from the preseason rankings.

Purdue attracted 14 of the 30 first-place votes and 584 points, while Southern Cal had eight and 536 and Notre Dame two and 488.

Houston, unmentioned in the preseason poll, leaped all the way to 11th after humiliating Tulane 54-7, and Georgia took over the No. 18 spot after a 17-17 tie with Tennessee that dropped the Vols from ninth to 12th.

Nebraska, only other ranked team in action over the weekend, remained 14th after a 15-10 last - minute victory over Wyoming.

Texas moved up a spot to fourth, trading place with Oklahoma, while Florida climbed a notch to sixth and Alabama moved from 11th to ninth and Penn State fell two spots to 10th to round out the top 10.

Texas A&M slipped from 12th to 13th, Indiana from 13th to 15th, Minnesota from 15th into a tie with UCLA for 16th, Miami jumped from 20th to 19th and Louisiana State, dropped from 18th to 20th.

Arizona State, 17th in the preseason poll, and Syracuse, 19th, vanished from the ratings although neither has played a game yet.

The top 20 undoubtedly will undergo another shakeup next week, since three games this weekend match rated teams.

Oklahoma opens at Notre Dame, while Minnesota is at Southern California and Houston tests Texas.

Purdue has drawn a soft touch in its opener, Virginia, but the following weekend the Boilermakers face Notre Dame.

The top 20, with first-place votes and total points (points awarded for first 15 picks on basis of 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1):

Wooten Plays Well In Redskin Opener

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Wooten, a pro for nine years, felt the pressure just like a rookie in his season debut, starting his football career anew after being cut by Cleveland in a racial controversy.

"I've never wanted to win so badly as this year," said Wooten, the new guard for the Washington Redskins.

"I definitely felt the pressure," he said today. "There's nothing like coming out of the opener a winner."

Wooten threw a goal line block that cut down two potential tacklers to cap a 12-yard touchdown run by Gerry Allen and played a key role in Washington's superb pass protection as the Redskins upended the Chicago Bears Sunday 38-28 for their first opening day victory in 10 years.

The agile 250-pound lineman, a former Pro Bowl player, was released by Cleveland in a dispute over a preseason golf tourney arranged by defenseive back Ross Fichtner. No Negro players were invited. Wooten, a Negro community leader in Cleveland, protested.

The Browns turned loose both Wooten and Fichtner. Wooten said, "the Redskins were the first team I contacted. The whole thought behind it was they had a chance to go somewhere.

"I went into Sunday's game with more pressure than I normally would," he said. "I'm still in the process of learning the Washington system. There were times in the huddle I was checking and rechecking assignments."

Coach Otto Graham praised Wooten's performance and said, "He's a very fine football player."

Southern, Rose Lead Area Scoring

Surprising Southern Local is leading area teams in scoring with 54 points a game over the first two games.

The Indians are one of five unbeaten teams. Midland is tops defensively, having held two opponents scoreless. East Liverpool, at 44 points a game, and Leetonia, at 43 points a game, are generating offenses that would lead normally, but Southern Local for the moment is out of sight.

The Indians also have the top individual scorer in Rich Rose, who has tallied 60 points in the first two games, more than any area team except the Potters and the Bears. He has twice as many points as his closest pursuer, Ken DiCross of Leetonia.

Ed Casey of Leetonia has thrown the most TD passes, six, but Ralph Nedelkoff and Ed Buckel of Southern each have four TD heaves, so Southern as a team leads in that department also.

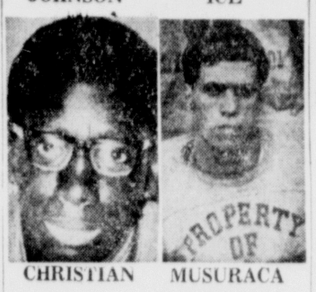
JOHNSON ICE



CHRISTIAN MUSURACA

Johnson, Ice Honored As Outstanding

Four lettermen again won player of the week awards at East Liverpool High after the coaching staff reviewed the films of Friday's 52-0 win over Youngstown Woodrow Wilson.

The only repeater was offensive lineman Jerry Christian, who once again blocked well while playing tight and split end. Jim Musuraca, named as defensive back last week, was named as the top offensive back this week for running and blocking.

John Johnson, who intercepted a pass, was named defensive back of the week and Stanley Ice was named defensive lineman of the week for excellent tackling and pursuit.

The staff noted that all the offensive backs, including the reserves, ran well, that Lou Volino did an excellent job of offensive blocking from his guard spot and that Floyd Cranston, playing middle guard, recovered two fumbles.

2 Umpires Fired For Organizing

By ROBERT L. SHAFFER

CLEVELAND (AP) — Al Salerno and Bill Valentine, claiming success in their efforts to organize the 20 umpires of the American League, say they will fight their firing by Joe Cronin, president of the league.

The 35-year-old Valentine, bristling over the firing Monday, told The Associated Press, "There's no doubt that we were released from our jobs because of our organizing activities." He said the proposed union had the support of a majority of the umpires.

League officials confirmed the firing but denied that union activity was the cause.

"Salerno met with National League umpires Thursday night," Valentine snorted. "Friday, the cards were mailed to every American League umpire. Today (Monday) we were fired."

"... Eighteen years in this profession ... you don't go sour overnight," he said.

Salerno, 37, said he was shocked by the firing.

"It was my turn to work the World Series," he said. "I thought that was what he (Cronin) was calling about.

"He asked how I was and about my flight out, then he told me my contract was not being renewed for 1969 ... that I was fired."

The two umps said two telephone calls, seven minutes apart, notified Salerno that he would receive 10 days severance pay and Valentine 30 days.

They said National League umpires, who "have been organized for several years," get from $3,000 to $7,750 a year more than AL umpires and "are ahead of us in every department."

Salary scales were not disclosed.

The original plan had been to set up a separate organization of AL umpiress, they said, but the NL umpires invited them to join them in an organization which would be called the Major League Baseball Umpires Association.

"We had a majority before I went to Chicago," said Salerno. Valentine said signatures for the larger organization had been received from a majority of the umpires but declined to say how many had signed up.

They declined to speculate on what course they and their attorneys would take to fight the discharges.

Cronin denied knowing anything about an umpire's union and said the two were fired because he was dissatisfied with their work.

U.S. Olympic Team Strong

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

SOUTH LAKE TAHOE, Calif. (AP) — The sun was beginning its descent behind Echo Summit when Payton Jordan, head coach of the U.S. men's Olympic track and field team, made his way over to the rows of canopied benches serving as a press tent.

For eight days, observers had watched American athletes go about the business of picking the track and field team that will compete in Mexico City next month and now it was time for summing up.

Inevitably, the discussion got around to altitude. What about the report, somebody wanted to know, that the Russiam team had spent far more time training at high altitude than the U.S. team had spent at the Echo Summit camp, 7,377 feet above sea level.

"I think," said Jordan, in perhaps the understatement of the year, "the evidence is rather clear that we've been here long enough."

It is that. In terms of competition and performances, the Olympic trials that ended here Monday are likely to go down as the best track meet in the history of the sport. And the team the United States will field in Mexico City will surely be its best ever.

It is not merely that four world records were broken during the eight days here. Or that 10 performances here were as good as or better than the recognized world standard in their respective events.

But when the depth of performance, the marks achieved by the second, third and fourth-place finishers in event after event is taken into account, the United States must be counted on as a distinct possibility to sweep several events in Mexico City and to take medal after medal in many of the rest.

It was not bravado alone that led Jim Hines to predict a sweep in the 100 meters or John Carlos to predict one in the 200 or Lee Evans to predict one in the 400. Or Willie Davenport to predict one in the 110-meter hurdles or Geoff Vanderstock to predict one in the 400 hurdles or Dave Maggard to predict one in the shot put.

All were winners at their events, except for Maggard, who came in second to George Woods.

Bob Seagren of Southern Cal set the world record with a 17-9 pole vault.

Hines won the 100 in 10.0, routine for him, and if that makes Charlie Greene only the second best sprinter in the country, then it also makes him probably second best in the world.

Woods took the shot at 68-¼ while Maggard was second at 67-4¼ and world record holder Randy Matson had to settle for third at 67-1¼.

Still not convinced? Well, we've gotten this far without even a mention of Jim Ryun, winner of the 1,500 meters in 3:49.0 and, if healthy, a cinch for a gold medal in Mexico City.

Gary Stenlund of Athens, Ohio, made the team, placing third among the javelin throwers with a mark of 254-9.

Billy Martin May Be Next Twin Skipper

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — Billy Martin looks, sounds and acts like the next manager of the Minnesota Twins, but neither he nor club President Calvin Griffith will confirm it.

Griffith maintains he has reached no final decision whether to rehire Manager Cal Ermer who is completing a one-year contract, or to let Ermer go and hire Martin or somebody else.

Martin, manager of the Twins' Triple-A farm team at Denver this season, returned to the Twin Cities Monday and watched the Twins nip California 4-3 on Rick Renick's ninth-inning home run.

"This is a good ball club," he said afterward. "Sure I would like to manage the Twins, but Mr. Griffith and I have not discussed it. I'm going elk hunting in Montana for five days and I hope to talk to him about it when I get back."

To Hear 6 Applicants

Pa. Racing Commission Ignoring Pittsburgh Bids

By JOHN L. TAYLOR

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Horse Racing Commission opens hearings Thursday on six of 13 applications seeking licenses to conduct thoroughbred racing in the state.

The commission, authorized to issue four licenses, will hear the presentations of groups which hope to conduct racing in areas other than the two large population centers.

Six associations have applied for licenses to race in the Philadelphia area and one would like to build a track near Pittsburgh, but the commission has not yet set hearings for these applications.

The six applications to be heard starting at 9 a.m. in the North Office Building of the Capitol Complex were filed by the following:

— The Pennsylvania National Turf Club, Harrisburg, which proposes to build a one-mile track on a 614-acre site in East Hanover Township, Dauphin County. The track would seat 8,017 spectators. John J. Shumaker, Harrisburg attorney, was listed as president of the organization.

— Shamrock Racing Association, Inc., Wilkes-Barre, one of two groups that hopes to lease Pocono Downs harness racing track for thoroughbred racing. Louis G. Feldman, Hazleton, is president of Shamrock.

— Montco Raceway, Inc., Philadelphia, the other group that would lease Pocono Downs, although it alternately proposed to build a track on a 380-acre site in Bear Creek Township, Luzerne County. J.H. Smith, Jr., Philadelphia, is president.

— Lakelands Racing Association, Inc., Pittsburgh, which says it would build a one - mile track on a 200-acre site in Fairview Township, Erie County, to seat 7,900 patrons, Richard D. King Jr., Pittsburgh, is president.

— Yorktowne Racing Association, Inc., York, which proposes to build a one-mile track on a 630-acre site in Fairview and Newberry Townships, York County. The track would conduct night racing with seats for 13,109 patrons. Earl T. Bobb, York, is president.

— Keystone Downs, Inc., York which says it would build a one-mile track in Middlesex Township, Cumberland County, to seat 8,000. Norman Braman, Lebanon, is president of Keystone.

Jacksonville Wins Second From Jets

By The Associated Press

You can't blame the Columbus Jets if they reach the conclusion that the Jacksonville Mets hold some sort of a grudge against them.

Nine days ago, the Mets knocked the Jets out of the International League pennant by beating them in the opener of a doubleheader on the final day of the season. This gave Toledo the flag by a slim half-game.

Now Jacksonville seems intent on rubbing it in by giving the works to the Jets in the Governor's Cup playoffs. After two games of the best-of-seven finals, the Mets lead 2-0.

A 6-4 triumph Monday night put Jacksonville in a commanding position as the teams headed south to play the next three games—if three prove necessary—on the Mets' diamond.

The Mets laid down a 16-hit assault Monday night. Two-run homers by Manny Sanguillen and George Spriggs went to waste for the losers, who had 13 hits of their own.

Tug McGraw, although touched for 10 hits in 5 1-3 innings, was the pitching winner and John Gelnar the loser.

Former Buc Hans Lobert Dead At 87

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — John B. "Hans" Lobert, a former" major league baseball player and manager once recognized as the speed king of the National League, died Saturday at a Philadelphia hospital. He would have been 88 next month. Lobert, a bandy - legged infielder, was a contemporary of Grover Cleveland Alexander, Christy Mathewson and Jim Thorpe—whom he once beat.

He was given his nickname because of his resemblance to Hans Wagner when he broke into baseball as a third baseman with the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1903.

Lobert had a lifetime batting average of .281 and 308 stolen bases in 15 years with the Pirates, Chicago Cubs, Cincinnati Reds, Philadelphia Phillies and New York Giants.

Winners Listed For Trapshoot

Second was Terry Zaplata with 46 out of 50. Tied for third were Tim Mellow and Harold Walton with 45 each.

In practice trap shoots, Alford broke 25 straight, McIntosh had 24 and Norman Rambo hit 23.

Earl Burlingame and James Czech won two protector shoots and Alford and Larry Cochran also won the "walk around" shoot. Terry Zaplata won the 25-yard high gun and Rambo the parking lot shoot.

The club will shoot again Wednesday at 7 p. m.

Court Denies Appeal By Logan High

CHARLESTON (AP) — The State Supreme Court refused Monday to hear an appearl by Logan High School in a dispute growing out of the Edward Lee eligibility case.

The high court divided 2-2 in refusing to consider the case, an attempt to block enforcement of the order which placed Logan on athletic probation and suspended it from playing football this season.

Judge Frank C. Haymond was absent.

The petitioners —LHS Principal Charles Harris, football coach Masil Maynard, Guyan Valley Broadcasting Inc., and its president William Bailey—sought to prohibit enforcement of the July 19 order handed down by the Secondary School Activities Commission Board of Appeals.

Lee played out the 1968 season as a star halfback on the Logan team despite an SSAC ruling that he was already 19 and thereby ineligible.

Docketed for a hearing Oct. 8 is another case involving the dispute, filed by the SSAC and its board of appeals and board of review. That petition seeks to block the Logan County Circuit Court from proceeding further in hearing an appeal filed on Lee's behalf.

Mathis Easily Decisions Wipperman

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Buster Mathis is a man with a mission. That mission is Joe Frazier.

Mathis danced and jabbed his way to an easy 10-round verdict over Dick Wipperman, a Buffalo, N.Y., suburban policeman, Monday night, running his record to 27 victories in 28 fights.

Wipperman, a journeyman heavyweight, was only a brief stop for the ambitious and revengeful Mathis.

"All I have to do is win a few more fights and then he (Frazier) has got to fight me again," Buster said.

Mathis' only professional loss was to Frazier in a five-state heavyweight championship bout.

The first typewriter of which there is any record was patented in England in 1714.

2 Umpires Fired For Organizing

By ROBERT L. SHAFFER

CLEVELAND (AP) — Al Salerno and Bill Valentine, claiming success in their efforts to organize the 20 umpires of the American League, say they will fight their firing by Joe Cronin, president of the league.

The 35-year-old Valentine, bristling over the firing Monday, told The Associated Press, "There's no doubt that we were released from our jobs because of our organizing activities." He said the proposed union had the support of a majority of the umpires.

League officials confirmed the firing but denied that union activity was the cause.

"Salerno met with National League umpires Thursday night," Valentine snorted. "Friday, the cards were mailed to every American League umpire. Today (Monday) we were fired."

". . . Eighteen years in this profession . . . you don't go sour overnight," he said.

Salerno, 37, said he was shocked by the firing.

"It was my turn to work the World Series," he said. "I thought that was what he (Cronin) was calling about.

"He asked how I was and about my flight out, then he told me my contract was not being renewed for 1969 . . . that I was fired."

The two umps said two telephone calls, seven minutes apart, notified Salerno that he would receive 10 days severance pay and Valentine 30 days.

They said National League umpires, who "have been organized for several years," get from $3,000 to $7,750 a year more than AL umpires and "are ahead of us in every department."

Salary scales were not disclosed.

The original plan had been to set up a separate organization of AL umpiress, they said, but the NL umpires invited them to join them in an organization which would be called the Major League Baseball Umpires Association.

"We had a majority before I went to Chicago," said Salerno. Valentine said signatures for the larger organization had been received from a majority of the umpires but declined to say how many had signed up.

They declined to speculate on what course they and their attorneys would take to fight the discharges.

Cronin denied knowing anything about an umpire's union and said the two were fired because he was dissatisfied with their work.

U.S. Olympic Team Strong

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

SOUTH LAKE TAHOE, Calif. (AP) — The sun was beginning its descent behind Echo Summit when Payton Jordan, head coach of the U.S. men's Olympic track and field team, made his way over to the rows of canopied benches serving as a press tent.

For eight days, observers had watched American athletes go about the business of picking the track and field team that will compete in Mexico City next month and now it was time for summing up.

Inevitably, the discussion got around to altitude. What about the report, somebody wanted to know, that the Russiam team had spent far more time training at high altitude than the U.S. team had spent at the Echo Summit camp, 7,377 feet above sea level.

"I think," said Jordan, in perhaps the understatement of the year, "the evidence is rather clear that we've been here long enough."

It is that. In terms of competition and performances, the Olympic trials that ended here Monday are likely to go down as the best track meet in the history of the sport. And the team the United States will field in Mexico City will surely be its best ever.

It is not merely that four world records were broken during the eight days here. Or that 10 performances here were as good as or better than the recognized world standard in their respective events.

But when the depth of performance, the marks achieved by the second, third and fourth-place finishers in event after event is taken into account, the United States must be counted on as a distinct possibility to sweep several events in Mexico City and to take medal after medal in many of the rest.

It was not bravado alone that led Jim Hines to predict a sweep in the 100 meters or John Carlos to predict one in the 200 or Lee Evans to predict one in the 400. Or Willie Davenport to predict one in the 110-meter hurdles or Geoff Vanderstock to predict one in the 400 hurdles or Dave Maggard to predict one in the shot put.

All were winners at their events, except for Maggard, who came in second to George Woods.

Bob Seagren of Southern Cal set the world record with a 17-9 pole vault.

Hines won the 100 in 10.0, routine for him, and if that makes Charlie Greene only the second best sprinter in the country, then it also makes him probably second best in the world.

Woods took the shot at 68-¼ while Maggard was second at 67-4¼ and world record holder Randy Matson had to settle for third at 67-1¾.

Still not convinced? Well, we've gotten this far without even a mention of Jim Ryun, winner of the 1,500 meters in 3:49.0 and, if healthy, a cinch for a gold medal in Mexico City.

Gary Stenlund of Athens, Ohio, made the team, placing third among the javelin throwers with a mark of 254-9.

Mathis Easily Decisions Wipperman

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Buster Mathis is a man with a mission. That mission is Joe Frazier.

Mathis danced and jabbed his way to an easy 10-round verdict over Dick Wipperman, a Buffalo, N.Y., suburban policeman, Monday night, running his record to 27 victories in 28 fights.

Wipperman, a journeyman heavyweight, was only a brief stop for the ambitious and revengeful Mathis.

"All I have to do is win a few more fights and then he (Frazier) has got to fight me again," Buster said.

Mathis' only professional loss was to Frazier in a five-state heavyweight championship bout.

Billy Martin May Be Next Twin Skipper

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — Billy Martin looks, sounds and acts like the next manager of the Minnesota Twins, but neither he nor club President Calvin Griffith will confirm it.

Griffith maintains he has reached no final decision whether to rehire Manager Cal Ermer who is completing a one-year contract, or to let Ermer go and hire Martin or somebody else.

Martin, manager of the Twins' Triple-A farm team at Denver this season, returned to the Twin Cities Monday and watched the Twins nip California 4-3 on Rick Renick's ninth-inning home run.

"This is a good ball club," he said afterward. "Sure I would like to manage the Twins, but Mr. Griffith and I have not discussed it. I'm going elk hunting in Montana for five days and I hope to talk to him about it when I get back."

To Keep Pressure On Leaders

Soviet Troops Aim Big Guns At Czech's Capital

PRAGUE (AP) — Thousands of Soviet troops ring Prague with their big guns aimed at the city to keep pressure on Czechoslovakia's leaders.

The steel ring of Soviet artillery is evident to anyone traveling outside the now tranquil but sad city. Heavy cannon, rockets and missiles point at Czechoslovakia's capital from north, south, and east and west.

One military expert says there is enough artillery not only to destroy the 600-year-old city but to "overkill" if shelling is ordered.

A short ride on the main highway east of Prague, a left turn toward the village of Dubec and there are 24 big guns set up in the alfalfa fields, their barrels pointed toward the capital. Twelve are lined up in a row to the right of the road; there are two groups of six on the left.

The guns appear to be 122mm cannon with a range of more than nine miles. Downtown Prague is less than eight miles away so these weapons could hit the presidential palace on the opposite bank of the Vltava River.

A mile or so farther are five batteries of multiple rocket launchers pointing at the city.

A few hundred yards beyond the end of Prague's Strasnice streetcar line, two score Soviet T55 medium tanks are parked, their guns directed toward the city.

Northwest of Prague, near the village of Horomerice, more than 50 big guns are concentrated within half a mile. They include at least 18 122mm howitzers, six huge 152mm cannon plus 85mm guns and 57mm automatic antiaircraft batteries. Some travelers have also seen missiles mounted on tanks aimed at Prague from the east and several tank regiments.

The artillerymen live in tents near their weapons with ammunition and supplies stockpiled nearby. Estimates of the total number of occupation troops ringing Prague range up to 90,000.

Very little is camouflaged, and the site of artillery aimed at the big city is clearly visible to Czechs picking apples in nearby orchards or passing on their motorcycles.

The implication is that all the hardware is there to frighten the people and intimidate their liberal Communist leaders to meet Soviet demands.

One major demand, for renewed censorship of press and radio, is now being enforced. As a result, details are meager on the continuing talks between Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vassily Kuznetsov and the Czechoslovak leaders.

The Soviet demands are also believed to include permanent stationing of Soviet troops at the West German border and tough action against Czechoslovaks who engaged in what Moscow regards as anti-Communist activity during the January-to-August days of liberalization.

County's School System Has Enrollment Of 6,911

LISBON — The four loca districts of the Columbiana County school system have 6,911 students enrolled. There are 165 in kindergarten, 4,588 in grades 1-8 and 2,158 in the four high schools.

James L. McBride, county superintendent, told the county board of education Monday night the elementary schools (including kindergartens) gained 373 pupils in the last five years, while the high school enrollment increased by 410.

—:—

THE BOARD'S only action last night was adoption of a policy of annual TB tests for all personnel in the county office as is required of teachers and employes in the county schools.

McBride read a letter from Paul H. Blair, superintendent of East Liverpool schools, reporting that the city's board of education had voted not to participate in planning for a joint vocational high school.

"It was the feeling of the East Liverpool board that with the facilities available in East Liverpool in our vocational education department that we can better serve the southern part of Columbiana County than would be posible through the proposed county vocational school," Blair wrote.

He said the East Liverpool board is "extremely intreested in vocational programming, but feels the investment in East Liverpool is of such magnitude that residents of this area would not support an additional school."

MCBRIDE said all other school dstiricts in the county will participate in planning for a joint vocational high school.

He told the board the county commissioners turned down his request that they buy three new typewriters for the county office for $395, counting a trade-in of old equipment, and a photocopying machine for $1,445. The commissioners wrote, "Necessary funds are not available at the present time, with the exeception of emergency situations. If your department has the necessary funds, this board would approve the purchase."

A regional meeting on the Battelle Institute research program will be held at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 25 at Salem Senior High School for administrators and board membes. The county board will be represented.

The Heart Association will sponsor "Smoking and Health" editorial and editorial cartoon contests again this year in the high schools, McBride announced.

He reported a "disappointing" attendance at the annual orientation breakfast program for the county system's new teachers Sept. 7 at Southern High School. A different type of orientation will be considerede, he said.

Small Transon Stymies Burglar At Food Market

A transom too small for an intruder to negotiate frustrated a burglary attempt at an East End food market, police were told Monday afternoon.

Betty McKinnon, a clerk at the Fullerton Market at 1308 Pennsylvania Ave., told officers she found someone had torn a screen off the transom at the rear of the store over the weekend. No entry was gained because the opening was too small, officers said. Earl Fullerton of Calcutta was listed as the owner.

Three more theft and vandalism cases were reported Monday. Billy Williams of 1049 Monaca St. told officers his bicycle was stolen about 8 p. m. after he left it outside a Mulberry St. store. The bicycle has 26-inch wheels. The rear fender is chrome. The front fender is missing, he said.

Council OK's 2 Purchases At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Purchase of an emergency first-aid vehicle and a City Park tractor were authorized by Council Monday night.

The legislator also approved advertising of bids for drilling a new water well at a cost of $5,800 and purchased a used street sweeper for $3,800 to replace a present sweeper.

The new well is intended to provide water to meet the increased demand in the city. It is not yet determined where it will be drilled. Reports of poor taste in water from a well drilled in the eastern part of the community have been discussed previously by Council.

Mayor Robert Harding said the water department has only $8,000 in current funds and the payroll must be met from that next month.

The new $5,000 tractor at the park will replace an old one.

The city has two older emergency first - aid vehicles, but they do not meet state requirements, it was explained. The vehicles are operated by the volunteer fire department.

The city plans to purchase within a year a new $55,000 aerial ladder truck, using funds paid on inactive city funds.

Council also approved an $8,000 purchase of three coal storage bins at the municipal power plant. A $50,000 improvement to the Vought boiler at the plant is under way and plans are being completed for purchase of a $55,000 Diesel standby generating unit.

X-Ray Camera Called Potentially Dangerous

BOWLING GREEN, OHIO (AP)—Wood County Sheriff Earl Rife warned today that an x-ray camera reported missing is potentially dangerous.

A Perrysburg man, Dale Seminew, reported Monday night that the camera was lost or stolen. It was locked in a case, he said.

A motorist later spotted the case along a county road southeast of Bowling Green, saw that it was marked "radioactive" and called the sheriff's office. But the case was gone when a deputy went to pick it up at the roadside.

The sheriff said the camera would be dangerous, exposing a person to radioactivity, if anyone dropped it or attempted to take it apart.

To Keep Pressure On Leaders

Soviet Troops Aim Big Guns At Czech's Capital

PRAGUE (AP) — Thousands of Soviet troops ring Prague with their big guns aimed at the city to keep pressure on Czechoslovakia's leaders.

The steel ring of Soviet artillery is evident to anyone traveling outside the now tranquil but sad city. Heavy cannon, rockets and missiles point at Czechoslovakia's capital from north, south, and east and west.

One military expert says there is enough artillery not only to destroy the 600-year-old city but to "overkill" if shelling is ordered.

A short ride on the main highway east of Prague, a left turn toward the village of Dubec and there are 24 big guns set up in the alfalfa fields, their barrels pointed toward the capital. Twelve are lined up in a row to the right of the road; there are two groups of six on the left.

The guns appear to be 122mm cannon with a range of more than nine miles. Downtown Prague is less than eight miles away so these weapons could hit the presidential palace on the opposite bank of the Vltava River.

A mile or so farther are five batteries of multiple rocket launchers pointing at the city.

A few hundred yards beyond the end of Prague's Strasnice streetcar line, two score Soviet T55 medium tanks are parked, their guns directed toward the city.

Northwest of Prague, near the village of Horomerice, more than 50 big guns are concentrated within half a mile. They include at least 18 122mm howitzers, six huge 152mm cannon plus 85mm guns and 57mm automatic antiaircraft batteries. Some travelers have also seen missiles mounted on tanks aimed at Prague from the east and several tank regiments.

The artillerymen live in tents near their weapons with ammunition and supplies stockpiled nearby. Estimates of the total number of occupation troops ringing Prague range up to 90,000.

Very little is camouflaged, and the site of artillery aimed at the big city is clearly visible to Czechs picking apples in nearby orchards or passing on their motorcycles.

The implication is that all the hardware is there to frighten the people and intimidate their liberal Communist leaders to meet Soviet demands.

One major demand, for renewed censorship of press and radio, is now being enforced. As a result, details are meager on the continuing talks between Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vassily Kuznetsov and the Czechoslovak leaders.

The Soviet demands are also believed to include permanent stationing of Soviet troops at the West German border and tough action against Czechoslovaks who engaged in what Moscow regards as anti-Communist activity during the January-to-August days of liberalization.

County's School System Has Enrollment Of 6,911

LISBON — The four loca districts of the Columbiana County school system have 6,911 students enrolled. There are 165 in kindergarten, 4,588 in grades 1-8 and 2,158 in the four high schools.

James L. McBride, county superintendent, told the county board of education Monday night the elementary schools (including kindergartens) gained 373 pupils in the last five years, while the high school enrollment increased by 410.

—:—

THE BOARD'S only action last night was adoption of a policy of annual TB tests for all personnel in the county office as is required of teachers and employes in the county schools.

McBride read a letter from Paul H. Blair, superintendent of East Liverpool schools, reporting that the city's board of education had voted not to participate in planning for a joint vocational high school.

"It was the feeling of the East Liverpool board that with the facilities available in East Liverpool in our vocational education department that we can better serve the southern part of Columbiana County than would be posible through the proposed county vocational school," Blair wrote.

He said the East Liverpool board is "extremely intreested in vocational programming, but feels the investment in East Liverpool is of such magnitude that residents of this area would not support an additional school."

MCBRIDE said all other school dstiricts in the county will participate in planning for a joint vocational high school.

He told the board the county commissioners turned down his request that they buy three new typewriters for the county office for $395, counting a trade-in of old equipment, and a photocopying machine for $1,445. The commissioners wrote, "Necessary funds are not available at the present time, with the exeception of emergency situations. If your department has the necessary funds, this board would approve the purchase."

A regional meeting on the Battelle Institute research program will be held at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 25 at Salem Senior High School for administrators and board membes. The county board will be represented.

The Heart Association will sponsor "Smoking and Health" editorial and editorial cartoon contests again this year in the high schools, McBride announced.

He reported a "disappointing" attendance at the annual orientation breakfast program for the county system's new teachers Sept. 7 at Southern High School. A different type of orientation will be considerede, he said.

Small Transon Stymies Burglar At Food Market

A transom too small for an intruder to negotiate frustrated a burglary attempt at an East End food market, police were told Monday afternoon.

Betty McKinnon, a clerk at the Fullerton Market at 1308 Pennsylvania Ave., told officers she found someone had torn a screen off the transom at the rear of the store over the weekend. No entry was gained because the opening was too small, officers said. Earl Fullerton of Calcutta was listed as the owner.

Three more theft and vandalism cases were reported Monday. Billy Williams of 1049 Monaca St. told officers his bicycle was stolen about 8 p. m. after he left it outside a Mulberry St. store. The bicycle has 26-inch wheels. The rear fender is chrome. The front fender is missing, he said.

Palmer failed to stop and his auto hit the Six auto, pushing it into the Hall vehicle. The Hall vehicle then hit the Cain auto, officers said.

Council OK's 2 Purchases At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Purchase of an emergency first-aid vehicle and a City Park tractor were authorized by Council Monday night.

The legislator also approved advertising of bids for drilling a new water well at a cost of $5,800 and purchased a used street sweeper for $3,800 to replace a present sweeper.

The new well is intended to provide water to meet the increased demand in the city. It is not yet determined where it will be drilled. Reports of poor taste in water from a well drilled in the eastern part of the community have been discussed previously by Council.

Mayor Robert Harding said the water department has only $8,000 in current funds and the payroll must be met from that next month.

The new $5,000 tractor at the park will replace an old one.

The city has two older emergency first - aid vehicles, but they do not meet state requirements, it was explained. The vehicles are operated by the volunteer fire department.

The city plans to purchase within a year a new $55,000 aerial ladder truck, using funds paid on inactive city funds.

Council also approved an $8,000 purchase of three coal storage bins at the municipal power plant. A $50,000 improvement to the Vought boiler at the plant is under way and plans are being completed for purchase of a $55,000 Diesel standby generating unit.

Junior Editors Quiz on SEA SHELLS

QUESTION: Which is the most valuable sea shell?

* * *

ANSWER: Shells are so beautiful in shape and pattern that they are naturally interesting to preserve and collect. But it is not their beauty alone which makes certain shells so valuable. If you had one shell, of which no other example had ever been found, you would find many museums and private collectors trying to buy it. Its value thus would become very high. This is the case with the most valuable shell, called Glory-of-the-Seas (1). Only some 25 of these have been found, and they have been sold for up to $1,200. This large shell, with the strange, scribbled markings on its surface, belongs to the group called cone shells and comes from the Philippine Islands and Indonesia. We show some other valuable Indo-Pacific cone shells: (2) the Nobility Cone, (3) the General Cone and (4) the delicately beautiful Rhododendron Cone. The mollusk animals inside many kinds of cone shells have tiny harpoons with which they inject poison into the small marine creatures on which they feed.

(Russell Perkins of Dundas, Ontario wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)
